General Notices

Notice of Decision of the Disciplinary Tribunal (Member Guilty of Conduct Unbecoming an Accountant, Negligence in a Professional Capacity and Breaches of the Institute's Code of Ethics)

At a hearing of the Disciplinary Tribunal of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of New Zealand held in public on the 3rd day of October 2006, at which the member was in attendance and not represented by counsel, Brett Christopher Hoddle, of Auckland, admitted the following particulars (a), (b), (c) (ii), (e) (i), (e) (iii) and pleaded guilty to charge (3).

The tribunal found the following particulars proven (d), (c) (i), (e) (ii), (e) (iv) and (e) (v) and the member guilty of charge (1) and charge (2).

Charges

THAT in terms of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of New Zealand Act 1996 and the Rules made thereunder, and in particular Rule 21.30, the member is guilty of:

- (1) conduct unbecoming an accountant; and/or
- (2) negligence in a professional capacity, that has been of such a degree and/or so frequent as to tend to bring the profession into disrepute; and/or
- (3) breaching the institute's code of ethics.

Particulars

IN THAT:

In his role as a chartered accountant in public practice and in relation to a complaint by the practice review board, the member:

- (a) breached the fundamental principles of integrity and objectivity by facilitating through his trust account an arrangement between Company A and Trust B, when he knew or ought reasonably to have known that its primary purpose was to improperly reduce Company A's tax burden; and/or
- (b) whilst a trustee of the Trust B, failed to ensure that management fees of $281,250.00 were returned for GST in the period that they were invoiced and received (being March 2005); and/or
- (c) in relation to the arrangement described at (a), provided conflicting explanations to practice review in relation to:
 - (i) the transfer of $50,000.00 to his 03 account; and/or
 - (ii) the transfer of $31,250.00 to his practice account; and/or
- (d) provided conflicting explanations to practice review and the professional conduct committee in relation to the transfer of $10,000.00 on 3 February 2005 from his trust account to the Trust Account C and its repayment; and/or

(e) breached Professional Standard No. 2 "Client Monies and Members' Trust Accounts" in that he:

- (i) failed to correctly record details on receipt of client monies (in breach of paragraph 24); and/or
- (ii) transferred client monies (being $281,250.00 and $10,000.00) without any or any proper authority and/or documentation (in breach of paragraph 26 and/or 27); and/or
- (iii) made a payment of $10,000.00 from the trust account to Trust Account C in excess of the funds standing to the credit of the client (in breach of paragraph 28); and/or
- (iv) provided documentation to practice review and the professional conduct committee, in the form of a loan agreement, evidencing an investment of client monies in himself by Client D, without prior written authority by Client D (in breach of paragraphs 41 and/or 43); and/or
- (v) failed to accurately record the position of individual clients within the trust account, such clients being Client D and/or Client E (in breach of paragraph 50).

Reasons

The tribunal acknowledged that no clients had complained or had lost funds. The matters largely related to dealings with a client who was the member's former employer and a personal friend and this appears to be a one-off occurrence. Apart from this one issue, the member's practice review was satisfactory. However, the member was party to an improper tax arrangement and failed to adequately maintain his trust account. He also provided conflicting explanations to practice review and the professional conduct committee.

Orders of the Tribunal

- (a) Pursuant to Rule 21.31 (c) of the Rules of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of New Zealand, the disciplinary tribunal ordered that Brett Christopher Hoddle pay to the institute a monetary penalty of $15,000.00.
- (b) Pursuant to Rule 21.31 (k) of the Rules of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of New Zealand, the disciplinary tribunal ordered that Brett Christopher Hoddle be censured.
- (c) Pursuant to Rule 21.33 of the Rules of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of New Zealand, the disciplinary tribunal ordered that Brett Christopher Hoddle pay to the institute the sum of $12,335.00 (inclusive of GST) in respect of the costs and expenses of the hearing before the disciplinary tribunal and the investigation by the professional conduct committee.

- (d) Pursuant to Rule 21.52 (b) of the Rules of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of New Zealand, the disciplinary tribunal made an order prohibiting publication of the names of the clients.

In accordance with Rule 21.35 of the Rules of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of New Zealand, the disciplinary tribunal directed that the decision of the tribunal be published in the Chartered Accountants Journal, the New Zealand Gazette and the New Zealand Herald with mention of the member's name and locality.

Right of Appeal

Pursuant to Rule 21.41 of the Rules of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of New Zealand which were in force at the time of the original notice of complaint, the member may, not later than 14 days after the notification of this tribunal to the member of the exercise of its powers, appeal in writing to the appeals council of the institute against the decision.

No decision other than the direction as to publicity shall take effect while the member remains entitled to appeal or while any such appeal by the member awaits determination by the appeals council.

Dated this 9th day of October 2006.

Notice of Decision of the Disciplinary Tribunal (Member Guilty of Breaching the Institute's Rules)

At a hearing of the Disciplinary Tribunal of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of New Zealand held in public on the 3rd day of October 2006, at which the member was in attendance and not represented by counsel, Sam Ming Chan, of Auckland, admitted the following particular and was found guilty of charge (1) and not guilty of charge (2).

Charges

THAT in terms of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of New Zealand Act 1996 and the Rules made thereunder, and in particular Rule 21.30, the member is guilty of:

- (1) breaching the Rules of the institute (Rule 21.2(b)); and/or
- (2) failing to comply with orders made by the professional conduct committee

Particulars

IN THAT:

In relation to a complaint from a client to the professional conduct committee, the member has failed to respond in writing to all the matters raised in the complaint within the timeframes set out by the professional conduct committee in its letters and/or emails of the 25th day of May 2006 and/or the 19th day of June 2006 and/or the 7th day of July 2006 and/or the 19th day of July 2006 and/or the 1st day of August 2006.

Reasons

The member admitted the particular and was found guilty of charge (1) and not guilty of charge (2). Taking on work that a member is unable for whatever reasons to complete in a competent and timely fashion reflects on the institute's reputation. Non-response to the institute with regard to complaints is a serious matter. The institute suffers if it is seen to be impotent in dealing with complaints. This was the member's second appearance before the tribunal on similar charges. The tribunal had regard to the member's contribution to the institute over many years, but for which he would be facing more serious consequences.

Orders of the Tribunal

- (a) Pursuant to Rule 21.31 (c) of the Rules of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of New Zealand, the disciplinary tribunal ordered that Sam Ming Chan pay to the institute a monetary penalty of $8,000.00.
- (b) Pursuant to Rule 21.31 (k) of the Rules of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of New Zealand, the disciplinary tribunal ordered that Sam Ming Chan be censured.
- (c) Pursuant to Rule 21.33 of the Rules of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of New Zealand, the disciplinary tribunal ordered that Sam Ming Chan pay to the institute the sum of $3,814.00 (inclusive of GST) in respect of the costs and expenses of the hearing before the disciplinary tribunal and the investigation by the professional conduct committee.

In accordance with Rule 21.35 of the Rules of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of New Zealand, the disciplinary tribunal directed that the decision of the tribunal be published in the Chartered Accountants Journal, the New Zealand Gazette and the New Zealand Herald with mention of the member's name and locality.

Right of Appeal

Pursuant to Rule 21.41 of the Rules of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of New Zealand which were in force at the time of the original notice of complaint, the member may, not later than 14 days after the notification of this tribunal to the member of the exercise of its powers, appeal in writing to the appeals council of the institute against the decision.

No decision other than the direction as to publicity shall take effect while the member remains entitled to appeal or while any such appeal by the member awaits determination by the appeals council.

Electricity Commission

Electricity Act 1992

Notice of Making of Electricity Governance Amendment Rules (No. 38) 2006 and Notice of Reasons for Decision

1. Pursuant to section 172i of the Electricity Act 1992 ("Act"), I notify the amendment of the Electricity Governance Rules 2003 ("Rules") under section 172H of the Act.

2. The empowering provisions for the Electricity Governance Regulations, in relation to which the amendments to the Rules are made, are sections 172D (1) (3) and 172D (1) (4) of the Act.

3. A brief description of the nature of the amendments is as follows:

- (a) Asset owners, excluding the grid owner, are to use reasonable endeavours to make the primary means of data transmission communications available continuously to transmit the indications and measurements required by the system operator to the grid owner's remote terminal units (RTUs);
- (b) the grid owner is to use reasonable endeavours to continuously transmit the indications and measurements required by the system operator from its RTUs to the system operator;
- (c) asset owners and the system operator must also use reasonable endeavours to return the primary means of data transmission communications to service as soon as practicable following an outage;
- (d) data communication is to be provided continually to the system operator, through the use of primary (e.g. the grid owner's communications system) and backup means (when the primary means is unavailable);
- (e) asset owners may provide data directly to the system operator using an alternative data communications system to be agreed with the system operator (approval not to be unreasonably withheld);
- (f) asset owners must have in place primary voice communications utilising one of either the grid owner's voice network or widely available public-switched telephone network;
- (g) asset owners must also have in place backup voice arrangements may include any alternative to the primary voice system – for example, satellite phone or cellular phone. Asset owners with control rooms dealing with more than 299MW of generation capacity or load must have two forms of backup voice communications arrangements;
- (h) asset owners must have in place both primary and backup means of document communications. Facsimile is to be the primary means of document communications unless an alternative arrangement is agreed between the system operator and asset owner; and
- (i) backup arrangements for voice, document and data communications must be approved by the system operator and its approval is not to be unreasonably withheld.

4. Pursuant to section 172z (4) of the Act, the reasons for my decision to amend the Rules are to:

- (a) meet the requirement of the system operator for continual communications necessary for it to comply, and plan to comply, with its principal performance obligations;
- (b) provide an appropriate balance between the system operator's requirements for the availability of operational communications and the practical and economic limitations of communication assets;
- (c) ensure that obligations are placed with the party best able to manage them; and
- (d) clarify the nature of the obligations of each party (system operator, asset owners, and the grid owner) regarding the provision of operational communications.

5. These rules come into force on 23 November 2006.

6. Copies of the Rules may be inspected free of charge or purchased from the Electricity Commission, Level Seven, ASB Bank Tower, 2 Hunter Street, Wellington. The Rules can also be viewed on the Electricity Commission web site:

3. A brief description of the nature of the amendments is as follows:

- (a) a replacement list of the indications and measurements required of asset owners;
- (b) a requirement for asset owners to provide each indication and measurement at least once every eight seconds; and
- (c) a requirement for asset owners to use reasonable endeavours to provide measurements at a nominal accuracy level of $\pm 2\%$.

4. Pursuant to section 172z (4) of the Act, the reasons for my decision to amend the Rules are to:

- (a) require asset owners to provide the necessary indications and measurements to the system operator so it can comply, and plan to comply, with its principal performance obligations;
- (b) provide a set of arrangements that are practical and cost-effective to implement; and
- (c) avoid incremental investment for existing assets where there would be no appreciable enhancement in quality levels as a result of that investment.

2. The empowering provisions for the Electricity Governance Regulations, in relation to which the amendment to the Rules is made, are paragraphs (a) and (b) of section 172D (1) (1) of the Act.

- (c) amending other inaccurate data.

4. The amendment is made in reliance on section 172F (3) of the Act.

5. Pursuant to section 172Z (4) of the Act, the reason for my decision to amend the Rules is that the Electricity Commission is required under Rule 2.3 of Part D of the Rules to publish, from time to time, updates of the details in Schedule D2 of Part D.
