An overview of reviewing the levies

Each year, ACC reviews the levies it charges.

From October – early November	The ACC Board invites the public to make submissions on levy rate proposals and options.
	The ACC Board considers the submissions.
November–December	The ACC Board makes recommendations to Government, via the Minister for ACC, about any changes to the levy rates for the following levy year.
1 April	The regulations and new levy rates come into effect (except the motor vehicle levy).
1 July	The regulations and new motor vehicle levy rate come into effect.

Why do levies change?

ACC meets the ongoing cost of claims from the levies it collects each year and the interest it earns by investing any unspent levies or reserves.

There are a number of factors that affect levy rates. These include the forecast trends in injury and death rates, the duration and cost of claimants' rehabilitation or compensation, and economic factors such as inflation and interest rates. Rising interest rates increase the future earnings expected from ACC's investments and decrease ACC's liability for past injuries and, as a result, reduce the levy rates. The opposite is true when interest rates reduce.

Proposals for each group of levy payers

Employers

Employer levies are based on their employee payroll. Employers pay:

- a levy for cover on work-related injuries to their employees in 2006/2007, and
- a levy to pay for injury claims prior to 1999.

ACC proposes:

- maintaining the combined levy rate for employers at an average of $1.21 per $100.00 of payroll by:
 - decreasing the levy rate on cover for 2006/2007 work claims from $0.88 to $0.86
 - increasing the levy rate for injury claims prior to 1999 from $0.33 to $0.35

- moving five individual classifications to different risk groups (or pricing pools)
- reducing the number of risk groups for cover on 2006/2007 work injuries to 127, and maintaining the existing 41 risk groups for claims prior to 1999
- introducing a levy discount scheme for small employers in five industry sectors with the highest number of work injuries.

Self-employed

Self-employed levies are based on their earnings.

Self-employed pay:

- a levy for cover on their work-related injuries in 2006/2007, and
- a levy to pay injury claims prior to 1999
- a levy on their cover for non-work injuries in 2006/2007.

ACC proposes:

- increasing the combined levy rate for self-employed to an average of $3.57 per $100.00 of earnings by:
 - increasing the levy rate on cover for 2006/2007 work claims from $1.82 to $2.06
 - increasing the levy rate for injury claims prior to 1999 from $0.33 to $0.35
 - increasing the levy rate on cover for 2006/2007 non-work claims from $1.07 to $1.16
- moving five individual classifications to different risk groups (or pricing pools)
- reducing the number of risk groups for cover on 2006/2007 work injuries to 127, and maintaining the existing 41 risk groups for claims prior to 1999
- introducing a levy discount scheme for self-employed in five industry sectors with the highest number of work injuries.

Earners

Earners levies are based on the earnings of employees and self-employed people, and pay for cover on their non-work injuries.

ACC proposes:

- increasing the levy rate on cover for 2006/2007 non-work claims from $1.07 to $1.16 per $100.00 of earnings.

Motorists

Motorists pay for all injuries involving motor vehicles on public roads, through a combination of:

- a levy paid by motor vehicle owners through their annual vehicle licensing fee (the levy is based on the type of vehicle)
- a levy on petrol sales paid by drivers.

ACC proposes:

- reducing the levy paid by motor vehicle owners to an average of $190.00 per vehicle
- maintaining the petrol levy at the current rate of 5.78 cents per litre
- maintaining the existing nine vehicle classifications
- reducing the ACC component of the annual vehicle licensing fee for each vehicle type.
