Restricted Activities Under the Health Practitioners Competence Assurance Act 2003

On 27 June 2005, the Health Practitioners Competence Assurance (Restricted Activities) Order 2005 was made by the Governor-General, pursuant to section 9 of the Health Practitioners Competence Assurance Act 2003 ("the HPCAA").

Formal notification of that Order in Council appears at page 2396 of this New Zealand Gazette.

What are restricted activities? What does this mean for you?

Section 9 of the HPCAA allows for specified activities to be restricted to registered health practitioners, in order to protect members of the public from the risk of serious or permanent harm.

From 1 August 2005, it will be illegal for anyone other than a health practitioner registered under the HPCAA to perform any of the activities listed below. It is an exception to this if the activity is performed in an emergency situation.

Any breaches will be investigated by the Ministry of Health and may be prosecuted. Anyone found guilty on summary conviction faces a fine of up to $30,000.

What restrictions are being put in place?

The restricted activities that are to be declared under the HPCAA are:

- (a) Surgical or operative procedures below the gingival margin or the surface of the skin, mucous membranes or teeth.
- (b) Clinical procedures involved in the insertion and maintenance of fixed and removable orthodontic or oral and maxillofacial prosthetic appliances.
- (c) Prescribing of enteral or parenteral nutrition where the feed is administered through a tube into the gut or central venous catheter.
- (d) Prescribing of an ophthalmic appliance, optical appliance or ophthalmic medical device intended for remedial or cosmetic purposes or for the correction of a defect of sight.
- (e) Performing a psychosocial intervention with an expectation of treating a serious mental illness without the approval of a registered health practitioner.
- (f) Applying high velocity, low amplitude manipulative techniques to cervical spinal joints.

Further information

This list will shortly be published on the Ministry of Health web site at www.moh.govt.nz/hpca

This will be supplemented shortly by explanatory material that assists to clarify the intended scope and intention of these restrictions.

A key consideration is that the restrictions are not intended to restrict the activities of practitioners of established professions not regulated under the HPCAA, from carrying out activities that they are currently legitimately doing without risk of harm to the public.

The Regulations provide that the levy rate for the financial year ending 30 June 2005 includes the Commission's costs in relation to the Whirinaki contract from 1 April 2005 (being the commencement date of that contract).

The Whirinaki contract is the contract between the Commission and the Crown providing for the power station located at Whirinaki, and the associated assets, rights and liabilities, to be available for the purposes of reserve energy (Whirinaki contract).

Regulation 14 applies to the costs of any activity that the Commission began to carry out before the date on which the Regulations come into force, or begins to carry out after that date (whether that activity is an initial or a new function) and that the Commission was authorised to carry out under the Act at that time.

Under Regulation 14, the Commission may decide to recover all or any of the costs of the activity by any one or more of the following methods:

- In any one or more monthly instalments of the levy, by setting a new rate for that activity or by adjusting an existing levy rate under Regulation 10; or
- in the end-of-year reconciliation under Regulations 11 to 13.

The Commission has decided to recover the costs in relation to the Whirinaki contract by setting a new annual levy rate for supply security operations under Regulation 10.

Under Regulation 10, an annual levy rate is adjusted by redoing the calculation in Regulation 7 using the amended figures for the whole or any part of the financial year.

Regulation 7 specifies how the Commission must calculate the annual levy rates.

New Annual Levy Rate for the Financial Year Ending 30 June 2005

The Commission has calculated the new annual levy rate for the financial year ending 30 June 2005, in relation to security of supply operations in order to recover the costs in relation to the Whirinaki contract from 1 April 2005, in accordance with Regulations 14, 10 and 7.

The new security of supply operations annual levy rate for that period is as follows:

	Generators	Purchasers	Distributors
Supply security operations (Whirinaki)	$0.000/MWh	$0.5875/MWh	$0.0000/MWh

Dated at Wellington this 28th day of June 2005.
