Radiocommunications Regulations 2001

Radiocommunications Regulations (General User Radio Licence for Itinerant Differential GPS) Notice 2003

Pursuant to Regulation 9 of the Radiocommunications Regulations 2001 ("the Regulations") made under section 116(1)(b) of the Radiocommunications Act 1989, and acting under delegated authority from the chief executive, I give the following notice.

Notice

1. Short title and commencement—(1) This notice is the Radiocommunications Regulations (General User Radio Licence for Itinerant Differential GPS) Notice 2003.

(2) This notice comes into force on 11 December 2003.

2. General user radio licence—(1) A general user radio licence is granted for the transmission of radio waves, by means of itinerant radiocommunication transmitters, to provide accurate position fixing in conjunction with the radionavigation satellite service known as GPS (Global Positioning System) in accordance with the terms, conditions and restrictions of this notice.

(2) Itinerant Differential GPS, also known as Itinerant Precision GPS or Itinerant D-GPS, is a system that involves a transmitter temporarily installed at an accurately known fixed location from which is transmitted correction data to roving receivers for highly accurate position fixing.

3. Terms, conditions and restrictions—(1) Except as otherwise provided in this notice, the frequencies and other emission characteristics are those prescribed in the Schedules to this notice.

(2) The peak equivalent isotropic radiated power (e.i.r.p.) must not exceed that prescribed in the Schedules to this notice or that which is necessary to reliably maintain communications, whichever is lower.

(3) Transmitters permanently installed for periods exceeding 12 months are not covered by this general user radio licence.

(4) Operation of itinerant D-GPS radiocommunication transmitters is not allowed within 1km of locations hosting licences in the frequency range 461.800 to 464.850 MHz (Note 2).

(5) Transmitters must conform to technical standards for land mobile transmitters as prescribed in notices made under Regulation 32 (1) (b) of the Regulations.

(6) Frequency use is on a shared basis and the chief executive does not accept liability under any circumstances for any loss or damage of any kind occasioned by the unavailability of frequencies or interference to reception.

(7) The chief executive reserves the right to require and ensure that any transmission pursuant to this general user radio licence change frequency, reduce power or cease operation, where reasonable evidence is provided to the chief executive of harmful interference being caused to licensed services operating outside the range of frequencies specified in this notice.

(8) The chief executive or any inspector duly authorised by him shall be granted by the licence holder at all reasonable times entry to any place, premises or building for the purpose of ensuring compliance with the licence.

Schedule: 1 VHF

Notes	1 and 2

Note 1: Operators are encouraged to use Carrier Sense Multiple Access (CSMA), or equivalent functionality, to avoid interference from other users.

Note 2: Operators should check the Register of Radio Frequencies for licences in this frequency range and respective district. See <http://SpectrumOnline.med.govt.nz>
Dated at Wellington this Monday, the 8th day of December 2003.

SANJAI RAJ, Manager Business Services, Radio Spectrum Management, Ministry of Economic Development.

Explanatory Note

This note is not part of the notice, but is intended to indicate its general effect.

This notice prescribes that, pursuant to Regulation-making powers under the Radiocommunications Act 1989, a general user radio licence is granted for the transmission of radio waves, by means of itinerant radiocommunication transmitters, to provide accurate position fixing in conjunction with the radio navigation satellite service known as Itinerant GPS (Global Positioning System), in accordance with the terms, conditions and restrictions of this notice. See <http://SpectrumOnline.med.govt.nz> for the register of radio frequencies for fixed permanent installations.

Fourth Schedule*Additional Rights and Conditions Included in the Easement*

1. The grantee shall properly maintain and metal the access track and all culverts and water tables in a proper and serviceable condition and that in the construction and maintenance of the access track, the grantee will use only suitable clean pit limestone and/or other metal.
2. In the event of the grantee by reason of the use or maintenance of the access track being responsible for the introduction of noxious weeds on to the access track or on to the remaining land of the owner of the land described in the First Schedule to the notice (called "the owner"), the grantee will forthwith take all reasonable steps to eradicate such noxious weeds and be responsible for payment of any damages which may result therefrom of an amount to be assessed pursuant to the provisions of clause 13 hereof.
3. If erosion occurs as the result of construction, maintenance or use of the access track or the discharge of water from any culvert under the access track, the grantee shall promptly take all reasonable measures to arrest such erosion and restore as far as practicable the land to its original condition.
4. The grantee shall not at any time fence the access track or any portion thereof without the prior consent in writing of the owner, provided however that the grantee will at the request of the owner erect a stock proof fence at the top of cuttings along the track where it is deemed necessary for the protection of stock.
5. The owner shall have the right at any time or times to fence along or across such parts of the access track as he may from time to time decide, provided however that if the owner should fence across the access track then the owner will erect at such crossing or crossings a suitable gate or gates or cattle stop or cattle stops to permit the use of the access track by the grantee.
6. The access track shall have a metal surface and shall not be sealed unless a further agreement is entered into with the owner.
7. At the points where the access track enters a road or any adjoining property or properties, the grantee shall provide, erect and maintain at the sole cost of the grantee proper boundary gates which shall be fitted with one padlock to which only the grantee will have keys and another padlock or padlocks to which the grantee shall not have keys and such padlocks to be arranged so that unlocking one padlock shall be sufficient to open the gate and the grantee shall at all times in passing through any gateways situated on any part of the property of the owner close and securely fasten any such gate opened in the course of transit but shall leave in its existing state any gate from time to time left open by the owner and the grantee shall not erect any cattle stops on the access track and in erecting or maintaining such gates the grantee shall not damage any existing fences and shall erect proper posts and strainers.
8. The grantee shall indemnify the owner from and against all loss, injury or damage whether to person, property or stock suffered by the owner or any other person or persons caused by the grantee or its servants, agents or contractors, invitees or licensees and resulting from the construction, maintenance, use and enjoyment by the grantee of the rights hereby granted and will further indemnify the owner against all suits, claims and demands of whatsoever nature arising out of the grantee's construction, maintenance, use and enjoyment of the said rights provided however that the owner will give to the grantee notice of any claim or intended claim as soon as possible after the cause of action arises or the owner receives notice of same.

9. The grantee and its authorised agents, servants and employees shall proceed quietly at all times along the access track so far as the circumstances including the type of plant and vehicle allow and shall cause as little disturbance to the owner and any stock on the servient land as is reasonably possible.
10. Notwithstanding anything herein contained, the right of access granted to the grantee shall be limited to use for the purposes of the construction, servicing, use and maintenance by or on behalf of the grantee of the microwave system and associated buildings administered by the grantee and if for any reason the use of the right of access by the Crown is increased then the Crown shall pay to the owner such additional sum by way of compensation as may be agreed upon or assessed from time to time under the Public Works Act 1928.
11. If at any time hereafter the said building shall cease to be used by the grantee for the present intended purposes then the grantee will at the request in writing and at the expense of the owner execute a surrender of the rights created by this grant but such discharge will not release the grantee from any liability that it may have incurred prior to the date of discharge and the grantee will not assign its rights under this grant.
12. The owner shall be entitled to use the access track for all farming and domestic purposes and together with his licensees, invitees, agents, contractors and others the owner shall have the right to give or grant to the Wairarapa Electric Power Board or other government or local authority or any other person or persons the right to use the said access track on such terms as the owner shall from time to time think fit subject to the agreement of the Crown on maintenance if the granting or such right is such that the cost of maintenance of the access track will be increased.
13. If at any time any dispute or difference arises between the parties in relation to this grant then such dispute or difference shall be referred to and determined by a single arbitrator if the parties can agree on one but otherwise by two arbitrators (to be appointed in writing one by the grantee and the other by the owner) and their umpire to be appointed in writing by such two arbitrators before entering upon the business of reference and that every such reference shall be deemed to be a submission within the meaning of and have all the incidents and consequences of a reference to arbitration or the Arbitration Act 1908 or any then substituting amendment or modification thereof.
