Tertiary Education Commission

Education Act 1989

Education (Tertiary Reform) Amendment Act 2002

The Education (Charters for Tertiary Education Organisations) Notice 2003

Requirements and Exemptions for Charters for 2003

Under section 159M of the Education Act 1989, and section 7 of the Education (Tertiary Reform) Amendment Act 2002, the Associate Minister of Education (Tertiary Education) gives the following notice.

Notice

1. Title and commencement—(1) This notice may be cited as the Education (Charters for Tertiary Education Organisations) Notice 2003.

(2) This notice applies from the date of its publication.

2. Introduction—As this is the first notice of the requirements for charters as described in section 159L of the Education Act 1989 (as inserted by section 9 of the Education (Tertiary Reform) Amendment Act 2002), the Associate Minister of Education (Tertiary Education) believes that it is important to advise stakeholders in the tertiary sector of the context within which charters fit.

The Government has set a new strategic direction for the tertiary education system to ensure that it is more strategically aligned to the needs of New Zealand and has a greater focus on excellence.

This new direction is outlined in the Tertiary Education Strategy 2002-07 (TES).

Derived from the TES is the Statement of Tertiary Education Priorities (STEP).

The role of the STEP is to outline the short-to-medium term priorities that Government expects government agencies and publicly funded tertiary education organisations (public and private tertiary education providers, industry training organisations, government training organisations, and other providers – TEO) to focus on in order to achieve the goals articulated in the TES.

Activities to be publicly funded have to be aligned with the TES and the STEP. Charters and profiles are the means by which TEOs demonstrate their alignment.

The extent of alignment is then assessed via the assessment of strategic relevance criteria within charters and profiles.

The charter is a high level strategic document that provides a broad description of a TEO's mission and distinctive role within the tertiary system.

Its specific purposes are to:

- identify the nature of a TEO's contribution to the publicly funded tertiary education system and its contribution to the TES;
- provide the Tertiary Education Commission (TEC) with a basis for the consideration and negotiation of profiles;
- enable the general identification of stakeholders and their needs;
- enable the Crown to give effect to its obligations under the Treaty of Waitangi;
- identify a TEO's contribution to Pacific people's education priorities; and
- assure TEC and the public that the TEO is, in principle, a proper recipient of public funding.

Requirement and Criteria for Charters for Tertiary Education Organisations for 2003

All TEOs, other than those exempted via this notice, are required to have a charter approved by the Associate Minister of Education (Tertiary Education) by 1 January 2004 in the form and addressing the criteria given below.

They are also available on the Tertiary Education Commission's web site at:

www.tec.govt.nz

Guidelines to assist TEOs prepare their draft charters will also be available on this web site from 30 June 2003.

These guidelines will indicate the types of supporting evidential material that a TEO should attach to its charter to demonstrate that it has satisfied the charter assessment criteria.

As well, further background information on the content of charters is available in the Report of the Working Party on Charters and Profiles.

This is available on the Ministry of Education's web site at:
