Ministerial Exemptions Under the Anti-Money Laundering and Countering Financing of Terrorism Act 2009

In accordance with section 157(6)(b) of the Anti-Money Laundering and Countering Financing of Terrorism Act 2009 ("Act"), the Associate Minister of Justice hereby gives notice that he has granted the following exemption from the Act:

Ministerial Exemption: Anglican Church in the Diocese of Christchurch and Church Property Trustees

1. In my capacity as the Associate Minister of Justice, and pursuant to section 157 of the Anti-Money Laundering and Countering Financing of Terrorism Act 2009 ("Act"), I exempt the Anglican Church in the Diocese of Christchurch and the Church Property Trustees (CPT) from all provisions of the Act.
2. The exemption is granted subject to the following condition:
 - a. The exemption only applies in relation to services provided by CPT to entities within the "diocese" and under the control of the "Synod" (as those terms are defined within the Anglican (Diocese of Christchurch) Church Property Trust Act 2003) ("Related Entities"), and includes, for the avoidance of doubt, financial services provided to parishes within the diocese.
3. The exemption has been granted for the following reasons:
 - a. Regulation 16 of the Anti-Money Laundering and Countering Financing of Terrorism (Exemptions) Regulations 2011 ("Regulation 16") provides an exemption from all the provisions of the Act for relevant services provided by a reporting entity to persons who are related to it within the meaning of section 12(2) of the Financial Markets Conduct Act 2013 ("FMC Act").
 - b. Section 12(2) of the FMC Act defines when one body corporate is related to another body corporate. CPT is a body corporate pursuant to section 5(2) of the Anglican (Diocese of Christchurch) Church Property Trust Act 2003, however the Related Entities are not bodies corporate.

- c. CPT cannot rely on Regulation 16 because the Related Entities are not bodies corporate and therefore not related to CPT within the meaning of section 12(2) of the FMC Act, as required by Regulation 16.
 - d. Due to the very low money laundering and terrorism financing risks raised by the CPT and the significant compliance costs that would arise from not granting this exemption, I consider that any benefits or requiring compliance with the Act are not justified by the associated costs.
 - e. This exemption is consistent with (and has no effect on the purpose or intent of) the Act, the Financial Transactions Reporting Act 1996 and New Zealand's international obligations as a member of the Financial Action Taskforce and the Asia Pacific Group on Money Laundering.
4. This exemption comes into force on the day after the date I grant this exemption (1 September 2015). This exemption will expire on 30 June 2018.

Explanatory Notes

These Notes form part of the Order of Precedence approved by The Queen.

The "Order of Precedence" indicates the relative precedence of constitutional office holders, public officials and certain others on State, official and other important occasions. It is a guide to be followed as appropriate to the circumstances of the occasion. With the exception of the Sovereign and the Governor-General, the precedence of those listed varies from time to time and from national to local level, depending on the nature of the occasion. Individuals not specifically included in the Order of Precedence may also be accorded precedence ahead of some office holders who are listed, where that is appropriate to the occasion. The relationship between the host and the guests and the requirements of courtesy, hospitality and tikanga may override strict precedence.

The Sovereign

1. The precedence of the Sovereign is absolute.
2. Members of the Royal Family are accorded precedence appropriate to the occasion.

Governor-General

3. In the absence of the Sovereign, the precedence of the Governor-General (or Administrator) is absolute.

Seniority within certain positions in the Order of Precedence

4. Ministers of the Crown/Members of the Executive Council take precedence according to their relative seniority as may be prescribed by the Prime Minister from time to time.
5. Ambassadors and High Commissioners take precedence according to the date of presentation of Letters of Credence or of assumption of duty. The relative precedence of diplomatic representatives in New Zealand may be obtained from the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Trade.

Judicial seniority

6. All Judges of the Supreme Court and Court of Appeal are Judges of the High Court of New Zealand.

Apart from the Chief Justice, the seniority of the Judges of the High Court (including Judges of the Supreme Court and Court of Appeal) is determined by the seniority of the Court to which they are permanently appointed, and their seniority within that Court.

A list of Judges in order of seniority by Court is available from the Ministry of Justice.

Public service and non-public service departments

7. Public service departments are those defined in Schedule 1 of the State Sector Act 1988. Non-public service departments are the Office of the Clerk of the House of Representatives, New Zealand Defence Force, New Zealand Police, New Zealand Security Intelligence Service, Parliamentary Counsel Office, and Parliamentary Service.

Holders of Royal Honours and decorations

8. Members of the Order of New Zealand, New Zealand Order of Merit and Queen's Service Order, and the various British Orders, and holders of New Zealand and British decorations take precedence in accordance with the Order of Wear. The Order of Wear is available from the Honours Unit, Cabinet Office, Department of the Prime Minister and Cabinet.

General Notes

Tikanga/kawa. The Order of Precedence does not specifically recognise Māori leaders who are widely recognised within a particular iwi or nationally. However, when these individuals attend an occasion where the Order is applied, they should be accorded appropriate precedence reflecting their seniority and the nature of the occasion.

This is of particular relevance to Māori occasions, especially those held on marae and involving state dignitaries. In aligning with this statement, the tikanga (practices) and kawa (protocols) of the host iwi will prevail. The relationship between the host (iwi/hapū) and the guests (state dignitaries and other guests), as well as the requirements of Māori cultural courtesy and hospitality, may override strict precedence.

Further advice and guidance can be sought from Te Puni Kōkiri.

Realm of New Zealand. Office holders of the Cook Islands, Niue and Tokelau, when in New Zealand on official business, are accorded precedence similar to that given to New Zealand office holders.

Acting office holders. Individuals acting in an office in the absence of the office holder are accorded the precedence of the office holder that they are representing.

Spouses and partners. The spouses or partners of those accorded precedence in this Order may, by courtesy, be accorded the same precedence as their spouse or partner.

Precedence within a group. Precedence within any group is usually determined by seniority, that is, date of appointment or length of service. Persons of equal seniority take precedence in alphabetical order of surname.
