Notification of Amendments to Input Methodologies Applicable to Electricity Distribution Businesses - Incremental Rolling Incentive Scheme (IRIS)

Pursuant to section 52W of the Commerce Act 1986 (“the Act”), the Commerce Commission (“Commission”) gives the following notice:

The Commission has amended the input methodologies applicable to electricity lines services under Part 4 of the Act.

The input methodologies amended are set out in the Electricity Distribution Services Input Methodologies Determination 2012 [2012] NZCC 26.

The amended input methodologies are set out in the Electricity Distribution Services (Incremental Rolling Incentive Scheme) Input Methodology Amendments Determination 2015 [2015] NZCC 32 (“amendment”).

The amendment comes into effect on the date of this notice.

The IRIS provides a mechanism by which suppliers that are subject to price-quality regulation can retain the benefits of efficiency gains beyond the end of a regulatory period.

The amendment describes how the Incremental Rolling Incentive Scheme applies to electricity distribution businesses transitioning to and from customised price-quality paths, and completes the IRIS input methodology amendment process commenced with the Commission’s notice of intention in April 2013.

We have amended these input methodologies to improve the incentives for electricity distribution businesses to control expenditure and to improve efficiency, and share improvements in efficiency with consumers through prices that are lower than they otherwise would have been. These amendments complement the amendments made on 27 November 2014, which set out how the IRIS would apply to non-exempt electricity distribution businesses subject to default price-quality paths. Those amendments were set out in the Incremental Rolling Incentives Scheme Input Methodologies Amendment Determination 2014 [2014] NZCC 32.

Copies of the amendment and reasons paper are available on the Commission’s website www.comcom.govt.nz/regulated-industries/input-methodologies-2/amendments-and-clarifications/and are available for inspection free of charge at the Commission (during ordinary office hours), or for purchase at a reasonable price at the Commission, 44 The Terrace, Wellington.

Dated at Wellington this 25th day of November 2015.

Electricity Industry (Exemption No. 235 (Legacy Metering Group (LMG) Limited)) Exemption Notice 2015

In accordance with section 11 of the Electricity Industry Act 2010 (“Act”), the Electricity Authority gives the following notice.

Notice

1. Title and commencement—(1) This notice is the Electricity Industry (Exemption No. 235 (Legacy Metering Group (LMG) Limited)) Exemption Notice 2015.

(2) This notice comes into force on the day after the date it is notified in the New Zealand Gazette.

2. Exemption—Legacy Metering Group (LMG) Limited (“Legacy Metering”) is exempted from complying with the obligation in clause 1(1)(a)(i) of Schedule 10.5 of the Electricity Industry Participation Code 2010 (“Code”) to ensure that an initial metering equipment provider (“MEP”) audit is completed within three months of first becoming an MEP.

3. Term—This exemption expires at the earlier of:

- a. the close of 30 November 2016;
- b. Legacy Metering being responsible for more than 20 installation control points; and
- c. Legacy Metering being responsible for a category 2 or higher metering installation.

4. Reasons for granting the exemption—The reasons for granting this exemption are:

- a. the exemption is only needed on a short-term basis;
- b. granting the exemption will assist a small new entrant MEP to enter the market, which could lead to increased competition for the long-term benefit of consumers;
- c. granting the exemption will ensure Legacy Metering’s audit is meaningful;
- d. the exemption will have little or no impact on other participants and service providers, and will not affect any other Code provisions; and
- e. the exemption meets the requirements of section 11(2) of the Act for granting exemptions.

Dated at Wellington this 4th day of December 2015.

For and on behalf of the Electricity Authority:

Hon ROGER SOWRY, onzm, Member, Electricity Authority.

Electricity Industry (Exemption No. 233 (Mighty River Power Limited)) Exemption Notice 2015

In accordance with section 11 of the Electricity Industry Act 2010 (“Act”), the Electricity Authority gives the following notice.

Notice

1. Title and commencement—(1) This notice is the Electricity Industry (Exemption No. 233 (Mighty River Power Limited)) Exemption Notice 2015.

(2) This notice comes into force on the day after the date it is notified in the New Zealand Gazette.

2. Exemption—Mighty River Power Limited (“MRPL”) is exempted from complying with the obligation in clause 8(g) of Schedule 15.3 of the Electricity Industry Participation Code 2010 (“Code”) to provide non half-hour (“NHH”) submission information instead of half-hour (“HHR”) submission information for distributed unmetered load (“DUML”).

3. Term—This exemption expires at the close of 31 October 2023.

4. Reasons for granting the exemption—The reasons for granting this exemption are:

- a. without the exemption, MRPL would incur significant administration and compliance costs changing its internal system to provide submission information for the DUML in NHH format, instead of in the HHR format it currently provides;
- b. DUML is reasonably static and predictable, and any changes are accurately tracked within MRPL’s DUML database;

- c. MRPL's internal system replicates the profiling process used in the reconciliation manager's system by converting NHH quantities into an HHR "shape" using on and off switch times recorded by a certified data logger and provides a similar level of accuracy;
- d. the exemption will have little or no impact on other participants and service providers, and will not affect any other Code provisions; and
- e. the exemption meets the requirements in section 11(2) of the Act for granting exemptions.

Dated at Wellington this 4th day of December 2015.

For and on behalf of the Electricity Authority:

Hon ROGER SOWRY, onzm, Member, Electricity Authority.

Electricity Industry (Exemption No. 169 (Mighty River Power Limited)) Exemption Notice Revocation Notice 2015

In accordance with section 11(3) of the Electricity Industry Act 2010 ("Act"), the Electricity Authority ("Authority") gives the following notice.

Notice

1. Title and commencement—(1) This notice is the Electricity Industry (Exemption No. 169 (Mighty River Power Limited)) Exemption Notice Revocation Notice 2015.

(2) This notice comes into force on the day after the date it is notified in the New Zealand Gazette.

2. Revocation—The Electricity Industry (Exemption No. 169 (Mighty River Power Limited)) Exemption Notice 2013, published in the New Zealand Gazette, 11 July 2013, No. 88, page 2359 ("Exemption 169"), is revoked.

3. Reasons for revoking the exemption—The reasons for revoking Exemption 169 are:

- a. revoking the exemption meets the requirements in section 11(3) of the Act for revoking exemptions;
- b. Exemption 169, granted to exempt Mighty River Power Limited ("MRPL") from clause 8(g) of Schedule 15.3 of the Electricity Industry Participation Code 2010 ("Code"), applied only to 16 installation control points ("ICPs") listed in that exemption notice, which were for distributed unmetered load ("DUML");
- c. the Authority has approved exempting another participant from the obligation in clause 8(g) of Schedule 15.3 of the Code for all of its DUML ICPs, without listing specific ICPs;
- d. as a result of listing the relevant DUML ICPs, Exemption 169 does not apply to additional DUML ICPs established after the Authority granted the exemption, causing MRPL to be non-compliant for any new DUML ICPs; and
- e. the Authority has subsequently approved exempting MRPL from the obligation in clause 8(g) of Schedule 15.3 of the Code for all of MRPL's DUML ICPs, making Exemption 169 redundant.

Instrument Amending Ministerial Directions on Eligibility for Social Housing 2015

Pursuant to sections 102(2) and (3) of the Housing Restructuring and Tenancy Matters Act 1992 (“the Act”), the Minister of Finance, the Minister of Housing, and the Minister for Social Development, after consultation with the agency appointed under section 100 of the Act, the authority appointed under section 159 of the Act, and social housing providers that, in the Minister’s opinion, will be materially affected, make the following instrument.

- Title—This instrument is the Instrument Amending Ministerial Directions on Eligibility for Social Housing 2015.
- Commencement—This instrument comes into force on 25 January 2016.

Part 1—Amendments to Ministerial Direction on Continued Eligibility for Social Housing

3. Principal direction—This Part amends the Ministerial Direction on Continued Eligibility for Social Housing given on 11 June 2014¹ (“principal direction”).

4. Clause 3 amended (Interpretation)

(1) In clause 3, insert in its appropriate alphabetical order:

Act means the Housing Restructuring and Tenancy Matters Act 1992

(2) In clause 3, insert as subclause 3.2:

3.2 Terms used in this direction and not defined in this clause but defined in section 2 of the Act have the same meanings in this direction.

5. Clause 7 amended (Housing need)

After clause 7.2, insert:

7.3 Clause 7.4 applies to a person who has been assessed by the agency as eligible for social housing and who the agency has referred or allocated to a social housing provider.

7.4 If the person declines an offer by the social housing provider to be let social housing without, in the opinion of the agency, a good and sufficient reason, the agency must review the person's eligibility for social housing under section 117 of the Act and for the purpose of that review, the person must be considered to not have a persistent housing need that is serious or severe.

7.5 Clause 7.4 is subject to clauses 7.6 to 7.7.

7.6 The agency must not make a determination under clause 7.4 that the person's declining of the offer is without a good and sufficient reason unless it has given the person, where practicable, in a manner and in language that the person understands—

(a) advice on the consequences of declining an offer without a good and sufficient reason, including how the person's eligibility for social housing will be assessed if the person applies again to be assessed as eligible to be allocated social housing within a period of 13 weeks after declining the offer; and

(b) if the person has given reasons for declining the offer, the agency's preliminary view that the person's reasons are not good and sufficient; and

(c) a further opportunity to provide any alternative or additional reasons before the agency makes a final determination; and

(d) advice on the person's rights of appeal of the agency's final determination under section 133 of the Act.

7.7 For the purpose of clause 7.4, a person has a good and sufficient reason for declining an offer to be let social housing if the person's reason is—

(a) the premises to which the offer relates (the offered premises) do not meet the needs (as assessed by the agency) of the person or any person included in the offer in terms of any of the following:

(i) number of bedrooms:

(ii) design and layout:

(iii) features required to meet the needs of the disabled, children or the elderly:

(iv) fencing:

(v) the proximity and accessibility of—

(A) essential services (for example, medical services, public transport, and (where appropriate) schools and early childhood education):

(B) any workplace of a person described in clause 7.8; or

(b) accepting the offer would or might have an adverse effect on the health, well-being, or safety of the person or any person included in the offer; or

(c) the offered premises are unsuitable because any order of or conditions imposed by any court or bail conditions (within the meaning of the Bail Act 2000) or release conditions (within the meaning of the Parole Act 2002) would prevent the person or any person included in the offer from residing in the premises; or

(d) the person was not offered the opportunity to view the interior of the offered premises before deciding whether to accept the offer; or

(e) any other reason that the agency considers is a good and sufficient reason.

7.8 In clause 7.7, person included in the offer, in relation to the offered premises, means a person who, when the offer was made, the agency contemplated would be residing in the offered premises with the person to whom the offer was made and who is or would be or would have been any of the following:

(a) an applicable person in respect of the offered premises:

(b) a dependent child (within the meaning of section 3(1) of the Social Security Act 1964 read in the light of section 63A of that Act) of the person or of any person included in the offer:

(c) an additional resident of the offered premises.

Part 2—Amendments to Ministerial Direction on Eligibility for Social Housing

6. Principal direction—This Part amends the Ministerial Direction on Eligibility for Social Housing given on 14 April 2014² (“principal direction”).

7. Clause 7 amended (Housing need)

After clause 7.3, insert:

7.4 Clause 7.5 applies to a person if, pursuant to clause 7.4 of the Ministerial Direction on Continued Eligibility for Social Housing, the agency determines that a person has declined an offer to be let social housing by a social housing provider without (in the opinion of the agency) a good and sufficient reason.

7.5 If the person applies again to be assessed as eligible to be allocated social housing within a period of 13 weeks after declining that offer, then his or her declining of that offer without a good and sufficient reason must be taken into account as a material factor, along with any material change of circumstances of the person or any person included in that offer, in assessing whether the person has a persistent housing need that is serious or severe.

7.6 In clause 7.5, person included in that offer has the same meaning as person included in the offer in clause 7.8 of the Ministerial Direction on Continued Eligibility for Social Housing.

Dated at Wellington this 30th day of November 2015.

Hon BILL ENGLISH, Minister of Finance (also exercising the powers of the Minister of Housing under the authority of the Prime Minister).

Hon PAULA BENNETT, Minister for Social Housing (also exercising the powers of the Minister for Social Development under the authority of the Prime Minister).

Explanatory Note

This note is not part of the instrument, but is intended to indicate its general effect.

This instrument, which comes into force on 25 January 2016, amends the Ministerial Directions on Continued Eligibility for Social Housing and Eligibility for Social Housing respectively. The amendments apply to people who decline an offer to be let social housing by a social housing provider without a good and sufficient reason. The Social Housing Agency must review their continued eligibility for social housing and for the purpose of that review, the person must be considered to not have a persistent housing need that is serious or severe. The decline continues to be taken into account as a material factor for any subsequent assessment of eligibility for social housing within a period of 13 weeks, along with any material change of circumstances. The amendments also set out examples of good and sufficient reason, and what the Social Housing Agency must do before making a final determination on whether a person had a good and sufficient reason for declining the offer. This instrument is a disallowable instrument for the purposes of the Legislation Act 2012.

General Section

Notice of Scopes of Practice and Prescribed Qualifications for the Practice of Medical Laboratory Science

The Medical Science Council (“Council”) hereby gives notice that the following notice replaces the previous notice, published in the New Zealand Gazette, 5 August 2010, No. 95, page 2539, issued by the Medical Laboratory Science Board.

This notice sets out the scopes of practice and qualifications for the practice of medical laboratory science in New Zealand as required by sections 11 and 12 of the Health Practitioners Competence Assurance Act 2003 (“Act”).

The scopes of practice and qualifications were agreed by the Council following consultations undertaken in 2013, 2014, and 2015.

This notice takes effect from 1 February 2016.

The Practice of Medical Laboratory Science

Medical Laboratory Science is the collection, receipt, preparation, investigation and laboratory analysis of samples of human biological material for the purpose of supporting patient diagnosis, management and treatment and for the maintenance of health and wellbeing.

Medical laboratory science encompasses a number of distinct disciplines including:

- Biochemistry

- Blood Donor Services
- Blood Transfusion Services
- Cytogenetics
- Cytology
- Embryology
- Haematology
- Histology
- Immunology/Virology
- Microbiology
- Molecular Diagnostics/Genetics
- Mortuary Practice
- Phlebotomy
- Point of Care Testing
- Specimen Services

Medical laboratory science also includes:

- Medical laboratory management
- Medical laboratory science research and development
- Medical laboratory science teaching
- Medical laboratory quality management

Medical laboratory science is practised in diagnostic medical laboratories within both the public and private health sectors, and blood donor facilities. In a small number of circumstances medical laboratory science practitioners may work in the health sector but outside of the diagnostic medical laboratory setting and will require appropriate mechanisms to be in place to support their ongoing practice and competence.

Scopes of Practice

Medical Laboratory Scientist (Provisional Registration)

Medical Laboratory Scientists (“scientists”) collect, test and analyse human biological material to support patient diagnosis, management and treatment. They are skilled in the selection of appropriate samples and preparation for testing and analysis, and in the use of sophisticated laboratory equipment. Scientists analyse and interpret laboratory results and report their findings to referring clinicians. In certain circumstances they also advise of the need for further relevant testing.

While scientists typically practise in one or two of the disciplines within the medical laboratory science profession, their breadth and depth of training may allow them to practise across all disciplines (with appropriate training and demonstrated competency). This is with the exception of scientists practising embryology: Due to the specialised nature of embryology-related qualifications, scientists practising in that discipline will typically have their practice limited to embryology.

Provisional registration is applied when a practitioner has appropriate qualifications but lacks the required relevant New Zealand experience to practise independently as a Medical Laboratory Scientist. Scientists who hold provisional registration are required to complete a period of supervised practice during which time they gain work-based knowledge and experience (including laboratory equipment and protocols). The period of supervised practice for each applicant is determined by the Council and will be no less than three months and no greater than two years. Supervision is provided by an approved registered Medical Laboratory Scientist or other registered health practitioner who holds a current practising certificate and has expertise and knowledge in the relevant discipline.

Medical Laboratory Scientist (Full Registration)

Medical Laboratory Scientists collect, test and analyse human biological material to support patient diagnosis, management and treatment. They are skilled in the selection of appropriate samples and preparation for testing and analysis, and in the use of sophisticated laboratory equipment. Scientists analyse and interpret laboratory results and report their findings to referring clinicians. In certain circumstances they also advise of the need for further relevant testing.

While scientists typically practise in one or two of the disciplines within the medical laboratory science profession, their breadth and depth of training may allow them to practise across all disciplines (with appropriate training and demonstrated competency). This is with the exception of scientists practising embryology: Due to the specialised nature of embryology-related qualifications, scientists practising in that discipline will typically have their practice limited to embryology.

Medical Laboratory Scientists who hold full registration are able to practise without supervision.

Medical Laboratory Scientists with full registration are responsible for directing the work of Medical Laboratory Technicians and Medical Laboratory Pre-Analytical Technicians. They may also be required to supervise medical laboratory science practitioners (all scopes of practice) throughout the latter's period of provisional registration.

Medical Laboratory Technician (Provisional Registration)

Medical Laboratory Technicians ("technicians") collect, receive, prepare, test and analyse human biological material to support patient diagnosis, management and treatment. Technicians select appropriate samples and prepare those for analysis using the appropriate laboratory equipment and testing protocols. While technicians may analyse and interpret laboratory results, they work within approved guidelines and protocols. Departures from defined parameters are to be referred to Medical Laboratory Scientists or other appropriately qualified and registered health practitioners prior to their release to referring clinicians. Technicians training includes a general overview of the practice of medical laboratory science and they are qualified to practise in a particular discipline.

Provisional registration is applied when a practitioner has appropriate qualifications but lacks the required relevant New Zealand experience to practise as a Medical Laboratory Technician. Technicians who hold provisional registration are required to complete a period of supervised practice during which time they gain work-based knowledge and experience (including laboratory equipment and protocols). The period of supervised practice for each applicant is determined by the Council and will be no less than three months and no greater than two years. Supervision is provided by an approved registered Medical Laboratory Scientist who holds a current practising certificate and has expertise and knowledge within the relevant discipline. Technicians practising in the mortuary discipline must be supervised by a registered pathologist (who holds a current practising certificate).

Medical Laboratory Technician (Full Registration)

Medical Laboratory Technicians collect, receive, prepare, test and analyse human biological material to support patient diagnosis, management and treatment. Technicians select appropriate samples and prepare those for analysis using the appropriate laboratory equipment and testing protocols. While technicians may analyse and interpret laboratory results, they work within approved guidelines and protocols. Departures from defined parameters are to be referred to Medical Laboratory Scientists or other appropriately qualified and registered health practitioners prior to their release to referring clinicians. Technicians training includes a general overview of the practice of medical laboratory science and they are qualified to practise in a particular discipline.

Medical Laboratory Technicians who hold full registration can practise under the direction of a registered Medical Laboratory Scientist or other appropriately qualified and registered health practitioner who holds a current practising certificate and has expertise and knowledge in the relevant discipline. Within the parameters of "working under direction", the technician takes full responsibility for his/her practice, with general oversight by the Medical Laboratory Scientist/other health practitioner providing direction who must be available for consultation if the technician needs assistance. The Medical Laboratory Scientist/other health practitioner providing direction must conduct periodic reviews of the technician's practice.

Medical Laboratory Pre-Analytical Technician (Provisional Registration)

Medical Laboratory Pre-Analytical Technicians ("pre-analytical technicians") practise in the areas of laboratory specimen collection (commonly referred to as phlebotomy), laboratory specimen preparation (commonly referred to as specimen services), and donor technology.

Pre-Analytical Technicians may practise under a number of workplace titles including but not limited to: Phlebotomist, Donor Technician, and Specimen Services Technician. The scope of practice of Medical Laboratory Pre-Analytical Technician (Provisional Registration) is inclusive of these workplace titles.

The practice of specimen collection involves pathology laboratory specimen collection by following established procedures. Specimen collection includes collection of blood, non-blood specimens, and some specialised tests and procedures performed at the point of contact with patients.

The practice of laboratory specimen preparation involves the receipt and preparation of samples prior to laboratory testing.

The practice of donor technology involves the collection of blood and blood component donations from blood donors within the New Zealand Blood Service.

Pre-Analytical Technicians can practise within either a single or a combination of all three areas of specimen collection, laboratory specimen preparation and donor technology, following successful completion of on-the-job training.

Provisional registration is applied when a practitioner has appropriate qualifications but lacks the required relevant New Zealand experience to practise as a Medical Laboratory Pre-Analytical Technician. Pre-Analytical Technicians who hold provisional registration are required to complete a period of supervised practice during which time they gain work-based knowledge and experience.

The period of supervised practice for each applicant is determined by the Council and will be no less than three months and no greater than two years.

Supervision of Pre-Analytical Technicians is provided by an approved registered health practitioner who holds a current practising certificate and has relevant expertise and knowledge in the collection and preparation of samples for medical laboratory testing and/or collection of blood and blood product donations.

Medical Laboratory Pre-Analytical Technician (Full Registration)

Medical Laboratory Pre-Analytical Technicians practise in the areas of laboratory specimen collection (commonly referred to as phlebotomy), laboratory specimen preparation (commonly referred to as specimen services), and donor technology.

The practice of laboratory specimen preparation involves the receipt and preparation of samples prior to laboratory testing.

The practice of donor technology involves the collection of blood and blood component donations from blood donors within the New Zealand Blood Service.

Pre-Analytical Technicians can practise within either a single or a combination of all three practices of specimen collection, laboratory specimen preparation and donor technology, following successful completion of on-the-job training.

Pre-Analytical Technicians who hold full registration must work under the direction of a registered Medical Laboratory Scientist, a registered Medical Laboratory Technician, or other appropriately qualified and registered health practitioner who holds a current practising certificate and has relevant expertise and knowledge in the collection and preparation of samples for medical diagnostic testing and/or collection of blood and blood product donations.

Within the parameters of “working under direction”, the Pre-Analytical Technician takes full responsibility for his/her practice, with general oversight by the registered health practitioner providing direction who must be available for consultation if the Pre-Analytical Technician needs assistance. The registered health practitioner providing direction must conduct periodic reviews of the Pre-Analytical Technician’s practice.

Explanatory Note - Increase in fees

The increased fees shown follow consultation with the profession as required under section 99 of the Act. The consultation document issued on 14 October 2015 advised veterinarians of:

1. The statutory requirement to seek to eliminate any cross-subsidisation between fee payers and the new methodology used to ensure that registration application and other fees reflect the total costs of providing these activities.
2. The proposed 4.3% in practising certificate fees in order for the Council to continue to meet its statutory responsibilities.

On 26 November 2015, after considering the four submissions received, the Council resolved to adopt the fees set out in this notice.

¹ Under section 97(1)(i) of the Act, the Council may prescribe an additional fee to be paid if a prescribed fee is paid after its due date. The Council uses this section to rebate the APC fee by a specified amount for early payment by a specified date, which ensures earlier renewal.

² Registration in this scope allows those who have passed the preliminary part of the joint Australasian National Veterinary Examination (NVE) to gain practical experience under direct veterinary supervision prior to sitting the final part of NVE. Registration lapses on the day the results of the final examination are released.

1. The Encumbrancer acknowledges that the covenants in this Encumbrance are of a permanent nature, and the Encumbrancer shall not be entitled to a discharge of the Encumbrance during the term, whether by payment of the total security or otherwise.
2. The Encumbrancer covenants with the Encumbrancee that:
 - a. the Encumbrancer will not dispose of any or all of the Land without first satisfying its obligations under section 40 of the Public Works Act 1981;
 - b. the Encumbrancer will advise the Encumbrancee of the proposed sale; and

3. This rent-charge shall immediately determine and the Encumbrancer shall be entitled to a discharge of this encumbrance if the covenants expressed herein become obsolete or no longer enforceable or where any sunset provision is enacted amending section 40 of the Public Works Act 1981 which provision makes the term of this Instrument redundant.
4. The Encumbrancer shall pay its own costs incurred during the course of this encumbrance.

 - b. to otherwise indemnify the Encumbrancee against any claims, loss and expense of whatever kind incurred by the Encumbrancee as a consequence of the Encumbrancer failing to comply with this Encumbrance Instrument.
7. No delay or failure by the Encumbrancee to enforce performance of any of the covenants set out in this Encumbrance Instrument and no indulgence granted to the Encumbrancer by the Encumbrancee shall prejudice the rights of the Encumbrancee to enforce any of the covenants or provisions of the Encumbrance Instrument.
8. The Encumbrancee acknowledges that this Encumbrance does not preclude the Encumbrancer from leasing (subject to compliance with any statutory constraints) or mortgaging or allowing security of whatever kind over the Land and consent from the Encumbrancee, except in any regulatory role, shall not be required.
9. The Encumbrancer:
 - a. acknowledges that this Encumbrance:
 - i. has been granted for valuable consideration received, in full compensation for the grant of this Encumbrance Instrument; and
 - ii. is intended to charge the Land and bind the Encumbrancer (and successors) to perform the Encumbrancer's obligations for the period of time set out in this Encumbrance Instrument; and
 - b. therefore covenants with the Encumbrancee:
 - i. not to seek to discharge, surrender, lapse, vary, amend, withdraw or remove in any manner whatsoever this Encumbrance Instrument prior to the expiry of that period of time, whether by payment of the total security or otherwise;
