Dated this 21st day of March 2011.

KATRINA BACH, Chief Executive Officer, Department of Building and Housing.

Note: Clarification of the requirements of paragraph 6(h)

The requirement under paragraph 6(h) to take no further action shall be void if the department does not, within five working days of the day on which the department receives the notice from the building consent accreditation body, provide any written comments to the building consent accreditation body.

For the avoidance of doubt, the requirement under paragraph 6(h) does not provide the department with any right to direct, veto or otherwise unduly influence the accreditation decisions of the building consent accreditation body. Rather, the requirement is intended to provide the department with a reasonable opportunity to:

- (a) give the building consent accreditation body information that the building consent accreditation body might otherwise not be aware of; and
- (b) develop or initiate contingencies the department considers are necessary in any circumstance likely to arise from the building consent accreditation body's decision to grant or revoke accreditation.

Inland Revenue

Tax Administration Act 1994

Determination S18: Issue of Perpetual Non-cumulative Shares by NZ Co, and Related Transactions

This determination may be cited as “Determination S18: Issue of Perpetual Non-cumulative Shares by NZ Co, and Related Transactions”.

1. Explanation

(Note that the explanation does not form part of the determination.)

(1) This determination relates to an arrangement involving the issue of perpetual non-cumulative shares (“the PPS”) by a New Zealand company (“NZ Co”) to its parent company (“Parent Co”). That arrangement is the subject of private ruling BR Prv 11/10 issued on 17 March 2011, and is fully described in that ruling.

(2) The PPS are an excepted financial arrangement. The PPS form part of a financial arrangement as contemplated by section EW 6(1) of the Income Tax Act 2007 (“the wider financial arrangement”). The wider financial arrangement also includes a loan from a related party to Parent Co (“the Parent Loan”), the use of the Parent Loan proceeds by Parent Co to subscribe for the PPS, and the use of dividends received on the PPS, plus payments Parent Co is to receive in terms of the letter dated the 23rd day of December 2009 issued by NZ Co to Parent Co (“the NZ Co Letter”), to pay interest on the Parent Co Loan.

(3) This wider financial arrangement has excepted financial arrangement components, as defined in section EW 5 of the Income Tax Act 2007. The PPS are an excepted financial arrangement component of the wider financial arrangement.

(4) The amount of income derived or expenditure incurred by a person under the financial arrangement rules in respect of a financial arrangement excludes any amount that is solely attributable to an excepted financial arrangement described in sections EW 5(2) to (16) of the Income Tax Act 2007.

(5) This determination prescribes a method to be used for determining the part of the consideration payable and receivable by the parties to the wider financial arrangement that is solely attributable to an excepted financial arrangement.

2. Reference

This determination is made under section 90AC(1)(h) of the Tax Administration Act 1994.

3. Scope of determination

(1) This determination applies specifically to the PPS.

(2) This determination applies if the interest paid on the Parent Co Loan is at an arm’s length market rate.

4. Principles

(1) The PPS, the Parent Co Loan, and the payment and other obligations under the NZ Co Letter are each part of a wider “financial arrangement” that has excepted financial arrangement components as defined in section EW 5 of the Income Tax Act 2007.

(2) Any amount that is solely attributable to an excepted financial arrangement described in sections EW 5(2) to (16) of the Income Tax Act 2007 is not included when calculating income or expenditure under the financial arrangements rules.

(3) This determination specifies that the only amounts that are solely attributable to the excepted financial arrangement within the wider financial arrangement are the amounts paid under or with respect to the PPS.

(4) This determination specifies that no part of (inter alia) the amount advanced or repaid under the Parent Co Loan, the interest paid on the Parent Co Loan, or the payments or other consideration provided in terms of the NZ Co Letter, is solely attributable to an excepted financial arrangement.

5. Interpretation

This determination has no specialised terms that need to be defined further.

6. Method

The amounts that are solely attributable to the PPS are:

- the issue price of the PPS;
- the dividends paid on the PPS;
- any other distributions paid on or with respect to the PPS by NZ Co; and
- any amounts paid to acquire the PPS.

7. Example

NZ Co raised $20,000,000.00 from the issue of the PPS to Parent Co on 29 December 2009. Parent Co funded its acquisition by a loan of the same amount from a related party, at an interest rate of 9.25% per annum, payable quarterly on 28 March, June, September and December each calendar year. Therefore the amount of interest on the Parent Co Loan for each full quarter is $462,500.00.

The amounts solely attributable to an excepted financial arrangement are:

- the issue price of the PPS; and
- the dividends paid on the PPS.

The amounts not solely attributable to an excepted financial arrangement are:

- the amount of the Parent Co Loan ($20,000,000.00);
- the interest paid or capitalised on the Parent Co Loan ($462,500.00 per quarter, plus the amount of any interest on any capitalised interest);
- the amount outstanding to be repaid on the repayment of the Parent Co Loan; and
- the payments or other consideration provided in terms of the NZ Co Letter.

This determination is signed by me on the 17th day of March 2011.

H. W. DAVIS, Director.

Veterinary Council of New Zealand

Veterinarians Act 2005

Minimum Standards for Practising as a Veterinarian Notice 2011

Pursuant to section 75(i) of the Veterinarians Act 2005, the Veterinary Council of New Zealand ("council") sets out in this notice* the following prescribed minimum standards for practising as a veterinarian:

1. Fitness to Practise

A veterinarian must be fit in order to maintain his or her practising certificate and to practise as a veterinarian in New Zealand.

Matters that may bring fitness to practise into question can include:

- (a) mental or physical health conditions;
- (b) any addictive or inappropriate taking of drugs or alcohol;
- (c) any investigations, in New Zealand or overseas, by an employer, registration or professional body, educational institution or other authority (eg racing authority) relating to any matter that may be the subject of disciplinary proceedings;
- (d) a formal competence enquiry by an employer or registration body;
- (e) an adverse finding in any disciplinary action by an employer, registration or professional body, or other authority (eg racing authority);
- (f) being the subject of a police investigation and/or being the holder of a conviction in any criminal proceeding (including traffic offences involving alcohol and/or drugs), where the offence is punishable by imprisonment for a term of three months or longer; and
- (g) being the holder of a conviction for any offence against the Veterinarians Act 2005, the Agricultural Compounds and Veterinary Medicines Act 1997, the Animal Welfare Act 1981, the Misuse of Drugs Act 1975 and subordinate legislation, and any other Act or subordinate legislation that has a direct bearing on the veterinary profession.

All persons are required to provide the council with a statement about their fitness to practise when they apply for registration or for a practising certificate.

The council may also examine a person (section 25(a)), require statutory declarations (section 25(b)), require other information (section 25(c)) and take various actions under specific, relevant sections of the Veterinarians Act 2005.

2. Competence to Practise

(a) Competency Standards

Pursuant to section 88(3) of the Veterinarians Act 2005, the council refers persons to the document “Competency Standards and Performance Indicators for Veterinarians” available on its website

www.vetcouncil.org.nz

and from the council’s office on request. This sets out the competency standards council expects veterinarians to meet, at the point of initial registration, and on an ongoing basis, and provides criteria against which an individual veterinarian’s performance may be measured.

(b) Recency of Practice

Non-recency of practice can impact on performance. All applicants for a practising certificate are required to provide the council with information on their recency of practice. In the following situations, the council, after consideration of the individual circumstances of the case, may propose to decline or place conditions upon the applicant’s practising certificate (section 26(3)(c)) for:

- those who have not practised as a veterinarian for the last three consecutive years, or have not practised as a veterinarian for the last three consecutive years in the area in which they intend to practise; and
- those who hold a recognised qualification or a pass in a prescribed examination or assessment programme (section 6) but have not:
 - practised as a veterinarian for one or more years subsequent to gaining registration; or
 - practised for one or more years in the area in which they intend to practise subsequent to gaining registration.

(c) Continuing Professional Development

The council requires all veterinarians to maintain and enhance their performance by engaging in continuing professional development activities. Pursuant to section 88(3) of the Veterinarians Act 2005, the council refers persons to the document “Continuing Professional Development – Guidance for Veterinarians” available on its website

www.vetcouncil.org.nz

and from the council’s office on request. This sets out the continuing professional development standards council expects veterinarians to meet.

Under section 25, when considering an application for a practising certificate, the council may require the applicant to provide any document or information that the council considers, on reasonable grounds, is necessary to assess his or her application.

The council will use this section to monitor veterinarian’s compliance with the continuing professional development declarations made in their annual practising certificate declarations. Section 26 may be used in situations of non-compliance.

*This notice replaces the notice published in the New Zealand Gazette, 25 February 2010, No. 22, page 520. The changes relate to:

- additions to the fitness to practise requirements to reflect:
 - any investigations, in New Zealand or overseas, by an employer, or registration or professional body or educational institution or other authority (eg racing authority) relating to any matter that may be the subject of disciplinary proceedings; or
 - Veterinarians Act 2005, section 50(1)(a) grounds for discipline;
- the council’s decision to amend its consideration of the situation of veterinarians with non-recency of practice from five to three years, consistent with the provisions of the Health Practitioners Competence Assurance Act 2003; and
- the council’s decision to require all veterinarians to engage in activities to maintain and enhance their performance and to monitor compliance.
