Dumping and Countervailing Duties Act 1988

Anti-dumping Duties: Notice That Anti-dumping Duties on Preserved Peaches From the People's Republic of China May Cease to Apply

Under section 14(9) of the Dumping and Countervailing Duties Act 1988 ("the Act"), anti-dumping duties imposed on preserved peaches from China* will cease to apply to those goods on 21 August 2011, unless at that date the goods are subject to review under section 14(8) of the Act.

Any interested party that might request that the Chief Executive of the Ministry of Economic Development initiate a review before the cessation date referred to above, should be aware that positive evidence justifying the need for a review must be provided to the chief executive.

If an application is received which provides positive evidence justifying the need for a review, the chief executive must undertake and complete a review investigation within 180 days of initiation, on whether the anti-dumping duties should continue to be applied.

Positive evidence justifying the need for a review would need to include reasons for believing that the expiration of anti-dumping duties would see the continuation or recurrence of dumping of preserved peaches from China, and for believing that such dumping would be likely to cause the continuation or recurrence of material injury to the New Zealand industry producing preserved peaches.

The reasons should be supported by evidence and not be based on mere allegations or assertions.

Dear Judy

Special Purpose Lottery: Canterbury Earthquake Recovery

Further to our consultation discussion on 24 February 2011 and pursuant to section 245 of the Gambling Act 2003, I instruct the New Zealand Lotteries Commission to promote a special purpose New Zealand lottery.

The purpose of this lottery is to help fund the earthquake relief effort in Canterbury.

I also authorise the Commission to use whatever funds are necessary from current financial year profits to ensure that the sum of 50 cents from every dollar in sales for the special lottery is made available in profits for earthquake relief.

The New Zealand lottery will be sales for the Lotto family of games (Lotto, Powerball and Strike) to be drawn on Saturday 5 March 2011.

Thank you for your willingness to contribute to the relief effort.

Yours sincerely

HON NATHAN GUY, Minister of Internal Affairs.

This welfare programme, which comes into effect on the day after it is established and approved, enables financial assistance towards temporary accommodation costs to be granted to certain people in the Canterbury area whose homes were damaged by the September 2010 earthquake or its aftershocks and who are in temporary accommodation because they have been required to vacate their homes until, or while, remediation work is carried out and their insurance cover for temporary accommodation has expired. It also allows people with no insurance cover to be granted assistance in exceptional circumstances.

Clause 14 amends the Ministerial Direction in relation to Special Benefit so that payments of assistance under the programme are not counted as chargeable income.

Commerce Commission

Telecommunications Act 2001

Notification of Review of UBA Pricing of the Standard Terms Determination for the Designated Service of Telecom's Unbundled Bitstream Access

On 12 December 2007, the Commerce Commission ("Commission") made a standard terms determination, under section 30M of the Telecommunications Act 2001 ("the Act"), in respect of the designated access service of Telecom's unbundled bitstream access (UBA) ("Decision 611").

Decision 611 has since been clarified on a number of occasions.

On 19 February 2010, the Commission commenced a review of the data transmission cost (a component of the UBA price) under section 30R of the Act.

During this inquiry, which is yet to be completed, the Commission considered that a much broader inquiry of the UBA pricing methodology was required in order to assess the submissions made by the parties as part of the data cost review.

Section 30R of the Act provides that the Commission may, on its own initiative, commence a review, at any time, of all or any of the terms specified in a standard terms determination and requires public notice of the commencement of the review.

In this notice, the Commission gives public notice that it has commenced another review of UBA pricing set out in Decision 611 ("Review") that will include:

- how overage is treated;
- the ISP charge; and
- the avoided costs saved discount.

The Commission considers that this broader Review is not limited to the matters listed above and extends to include other UBA pricing components (or other related pricing matters) as considered necessary by the Commission for the purpose of giving effect to section 18 of the Act.

The Commission has not yet decided on a date for submissions on the Review for the purpose of section 30R(5)(c).

The Commission will give public notice of the closing date for submissions on the Review at a later date.

This Review will be conducted concurrently with the section 30R Review currently being undertaken by the Commission on the data transmission cost.

Further information about the review is available on the Commission's website

Date Further Review Launched: 3 March 2011.
