Public Trust

Public Trust Act 2001

The Public Trust Common Fund Interest Rates Notice 24 June 2010

The following notice is given pursuant to section 50 of the Public Trust Act 2001 ("the Act").

Notice

1. Title and commencement—(1) This notice may be cited as the Public Trust Common Fund Interest Rates Notice 24 June 2010.

(2) The determinations and revocation in this notice take effect from and including 23 June 2010.

2. Interpretation—(1) Unless the context otherwise requires:

"agency deposit" means a deposit (not being an investment deposit) held as agent or attorney;

"call deposit" means a deposit (not being an agency deposit, an investment deposit, a protection deposit, a special deposit or a trust deposit) held in the ordinary course of administration, and determined by Public Trust to be held at call;

"deposit" means a sum of money held by Public Trust belonging to any estate, which money for the time being forms part of the Common Fund;

"investment deposit" means a deposit held at call or otherwise as an investment under section 51 of the Act;

"protection deposit" means a deposit, held at call, of tuition, boarding, accommodation or other fees by or on behalf of a student enrolled at a private training establishment within the meaning of Part 18 of the Education Act 1989;

"special deposit" means a deposit held other than at call on behalf of the Crown, or any local authority within the meaning of the Local Government Act 1974;

"trust deposit" means a deposit (not being an agency deposit, an investment deposit, a protection deposit or a special deposit) held on trust:

- (i) for persons not of full age or capacity; or
- (ii) for beneficiaries not entitled to payment at call; or
- (iii) otherwise than at call.

(2) Expressions defined in the Act have the same meaning in this notice as they do in the Act.

3. Rates of Common Fund interest—(1) The rate of Common Fund interest on deposits (other than investment deposits repayable at the end of fixed term or protection deposits) shall be that specified in Schedule 1 for the appropriate type of deposits.

(2) The rate of Common Fund interest on each protection deposit associated with a particular private training establishment shall be that specified in Schedule 2 for the appropriate dollar range of the total of those deposits.

(3) The rate of Common Fund interest payable on investment deposits repayable at the end of a fixed term shall be that specified in Schedule 3 for the appropriate interest payment frequency, term and dollar range.

(4) Despite subparagraph (1), the rate of Common Fund interest payable on deposits made pursuant to an enactment shall be the rate (if any) specified in the enactment.

(5) Despite subparagraphs (1), (2) and (3), in particular cases or classes of case, Public Trust and the depositor may agree on a rate of interest payable on investment deposits, protection deposits or special deposits that is different from the rate specified in Schedules 1, 2, or 3 and the agreed rate then applies.

4. Revocation of notice and transitional provisions—(1) The Public Trust Common Fund Interest Rates Notice 17 June 2010 is revoked.

(2) The rates of interest specified in Schedules 1 and 2 to this notice do not apply to any period that ends with 22 June 2010 but otherwise operate as from 23 June 2010.

(3) The rates of interest specified in Schedule 3 to this notice:

- (i) do not apply to investment deposits repayable at the end of a fixed term that commenced prior to 23 June 2010; but
- (ii) do apply to investment deposits repayable at the end of a fixed term that commenced on or after 23 June 2010.

Research, Science & Technology

Foundation for Research, Science, and Technology Act 1990

Supplementary Notice of Tools for Ministerial Schemes Under Section 8A of the Foundation for Research, Science, and Technology Act 1990—Purpose of the Direction

This supplementary notice sets out the parameters of the investment tools available to the Foundation for Research, Science and Technology (“the Foundation”) when allocating funds in the 2010/11 financial year. It supplements the notices given under section 8A of the Foundation for Research, Science, and Technology Act 1990.

- Biological Industries Research
- High Value Manufacturing and Services Research
- Energy and Minerals Research
- Environmental Research
- Science Collections and Infrastructure
- Vision Mātauranga Capability Fund
- International Relationships
- Hazards and Infrastructure Research
- Health and Society Research

The notices set out above, and this supplementary notice, will be revised during 2011 to take into account the changes arising from the implementation of the recommendations of the Crown Research Institutes Taskforce, new initiatives introduced in Budget 2010, and the establishment of the Ministry of Science and Innovation.

This notice comes into effect on 1 July 2010.

Investment Tools

The tools referred to in the notices listed above are the following tools:

- Business-led Research and Development (R&D)
- Long-term non-contestable funding
- Science-led contestable funding
- Commercialisation and technology transfer support
- Partnerships
- Fellowships

Business-led R&D

Policy Objectives

The tool relates to research and development activities led by businesses. The objectives of this tool are to increase New Zealand businesses’ investment in research and development to support increased productivity. The objectives of the Technology New Zealand (“TechNZ”) initiatives will be reviewed as part of the establishment of the Ministry of Science and Innovation.

Initiatives

There are four initiatives available within the tool.

- TechNZ Targeted Grants.
- TechNZ Capability Grants.
- Technology Development Grants.
- Technology Transfer Vouchers.

Common Eligibility Criteria

The following eligibility criteria are common to each of the four initiatives within this tool, with some variations noted in the detailed descriptions for each initiative.

- Only businesses are eligible to receive funding via this tool.
- A business must be a person or entity that is in business and resident in New Zealand:
 - For those initiatives where a group of businesses are applying together, each of the businesses involved must meet these criteria.
 - For those initiatives where a business or businesses nominate a representative to receive the funding, the business or businesses must meet these criteria. A nominated representative does not need to meet these criteria.
- Businesses may not be an entity established under the Education Act 1989, Crown Research Institutes Act 1992, Local Government Act 2002 or the New Zealand Public Health and Disability Act 2000; or an entity that is 50% or more owned by one or more of those types of entities.
 - For those initiatives where a group of businesses may receive funding together, such groups may not include one or more of the above types of entities; and
 - For those initiatives where a nominated representative may receive funding, these entities may, however, act as nominated representatives.
- For initiatives where a nominated representative may receive funding, the nominated representative may only receive funding when the Foundation is satisfied that those funds will ultimately be used or applied by or for the benefit of the nominating business or businesses.

1. Technology New Zealand Targeted Grants

Policy Objectives

The objectives of this initiative, in addition to the overall objectives of the Business-led R&D tool, are to:

- grow business investment in research and development in areas of government priority
- improve the ability of businesses to develop new or more sophisticated technologies.

Eligibility Criteria

In addition to the common eligibility criteria for the tool, the following are also eligible to receive funding:

- A group of businesses; and
- a representative nominated by a business, or by a group of businesses.

The following research, science and technology activities are eligible to receive funding under this tool:

- Research and development projects that significantly increase a business' technological expertise; and
- the majority of targeted grants encourage or support high risk "stretch" research and development activities, as determined by the Foundation.

Other Parameters

Co-funding is required.

2. Technology New Zealand Capability Grants

Policy Objectives

The objective of this initiative, in addition to the overall objectives of this tool, is to grow New Zealand businesses' research and development capability by:

- improving their ability to develop new or more sophisticated technologies; and/or
- improving research and development skills and related business management practices.

Eligibility Criteria

In addition to the common eligibility criteria for the tool, the following are also eligible to receive funding:

- A group of businesses; or
- a representative nominated by a business, or by a group of businesses.

The research, science and technology and related activities funded under this initiative should result in businesses:

- that have not previously undertaken research and development beginning to do so; or
- sustaining on-going research and development activity; or
- improving uptake of external technologies, including international technologies; or
- adopting business practices to support increased or improved research and development activity.

3. Technology Development Grant

Policy Objectives

The objective of this initiative, in addition to the overall objectives of this tool, is to improve New Zealand's economic performance by increasing the total level of the investment made by high technology New Zealand businesses in research and development.

Eligibility Criteria

In addition to the common eligibility criteria for the tool, to be eligible to receive funding a business must:

- have a track record of reasonable spend on research and development activities relative to the revenue of that business (R&D intensity); and
- meet due diligence standards as defined by the Foundation; and
- have a research and development programme that aligns with the aspirations of the business around growth and is likely to generate wider benefit to New Zealand.

This initiative will support a programme of research and development activities.

Other Parameters

A grant equal to 20% of the eligible expenditure of a firm's R&D programme, up to $2.4 million a year. Eligible firms must have an R&D intensity (the ratio of R&D expenditure to revenue) of 5% or more and revenue of at least $3 million per year over three years.

4. Technology Transfer Voucher

Policy Objectives

The objective of this initiative, in addition to the overall objectives of this tool, is to increase the transfer of technology and related knowledge between firms and accredited publicly funded research organisations by supporting business led projects that develop better linkages between the two.

Eligibility Criteria

In addition to the common eligibility criteria for the tool, the following are also eligible to receive funding:

- A group of businesses; or
- a representative nominated by a business, or by a group of businesses.

This initiative will support research and development activities that respond to business needs. The research and development activities will be undertaken by an accredited research organisation (as determined by the Foundation).

Other Parameters

Co-funding is required.

Long term Non-contestable Funding

Policy Objectives

A non-contestable process to support the outcomes sought through the Ministerial Directions for Vote Research, Science and Technology (RS&T) funds and to generate economic, environmental or social benefits for New Zealand. In particular, this tool will support RS&T with the potential to:

1. create and support large-scale, long-term programmes of RS&T that deliver sector strategies and outcomes important to government and deliver significant economic, environmental and social benefit to New Zealand; and/or
2. support and maintain essential research infrastructure and associated activities that underpin RS&T outcomes in New Zealand by ensuring:
 - the preservation of assets and associated activities, for example maintaining the viability and longevity of samples; and
 - the maintenance and development of assets and associated activities, for example adding new samples and data, and upgrading facilities.

The objectives of this process will be influenced by the implementation of the Crown Research Institutes Taskforce report.

Eligibility

Government would expect the majority of the RS&T funded by this tool to be led by research organisations, in particular, but not exclusive to, Crown Research Institutes, Universities and Independent Research Associations.

The following RS&T activities are eligible to receive funding under this tool:

For policy objective 1:

- Activities that are large in scale with respect to end-benefits and the size and complexity of the research effort required; and/or
- activities that have significant involvement by users in both governance (setting directions and quality measures, determining capability requirements, evaluating outcomes) and execution (in particular, technology transfer and application).

For policy objective 2:

- Activities that support research assets that:
 - are critical for the longer-term capabilities of New Zealand's RS&T stakeholders; and

- cannot withstand discontinuity of funding without their integrity being irrevocably compromised; and
- cannot be better managed by other available funding mechanisms.

Other Parameters

In receiving funding under policy objective 1 of this tool, entities will become accountable for producing outcomes by:

- using implementation pathways that aim to maximise benefits for New Zealand; and
- delivering RS&T that meets appropriate international standards.

Relationship to Previous Investment Types

The Foundation has historically invested in this area using:

- Backbone Research.
- Stable Funding environment 1 and 2.
- Outcome based investments.

Science-led Contestable Funding

Policy Objectives

A contestable process to support the outcomes sought through the Ministerial Directions for Vote RS&T funds and to generate economic, environmental or social benefits for New Zealand.

The tool will fund RS&T that has the potential to:

- enhance the productivity of established industries;
- generate new industries for New Zealand;
- add new value to public services in New Zealand; or
- develop world leading technological capabilities by supporting research programmes to develop technology able to support a range of applications, products and services.

Eligibility Criteria

To be eligible to receive funding under this tool, entities must:

- have the capability to provide basic-targeted and/or applied RS&T.

Parameters

- RS&T projects and programmes supported under this tool will tend to be short to medium term.
- There will be a focus on excellent research as assessed by the quality of the available capabilities, research management processes and potential impact of the targeted outcomes.
- Government would expect the majority of the RS&T supported by this tool would be led by research organisations, in particular, but not exclusive to, Crown Research Institutes, Universities and Independent Research Associations.

Relationship to Previous Investment Types

The Foundation has historically invested in this area using:

- New Economy Research
- Transformational RS&T
- Contestable investment processes.

Commercialisation and Technology Transfer Support

Policy Objectives

The objective of this tool is to increase the benefit New Zealand derives from publicly funded RS&T outputs.

Objectives

The objectives of this tool are to improve the ability of:

1. research organisations to commercialise the results of their RS&T:
 - via existing businesses and industry organisations; and/or

- in the absence of a well-established industry, through the creation of new commercial entities; and

2. research users to access the skills, knowledge and results generated by publicly funded RS&T.

Eligibility Criteria

For objective 1:

Research organisations are eligible to receive funding under this tool to support:

- Activities that develop publicly funded RS&T to an “investor ready” point, including:
 - Experimental development and related pre-commercial activities.
 - Activities that raise research providers’ commercial capabilities and skills.
 - Activities that improve links between publicly funded research providers and potential private sector partners.

For objective 2:

RS&T users are eligible to receive funding under this tool to support:

- improved science input from research organisations to their activities, including decision making;
- an increase in their engagement with the RS&T sector; and
- greater collective engagement between research users and the science system generally.

Other Parameters

- Co-funding is required for funding going to research organisations and their offices.
- Research users may include regional councils.
- Some activities funded under this initiative may be devolved to research organisations.

Relationship to Previous Investment Types

The Foundation has historically invested in this area using:

- Pre-Seed Accelerator fund.
- Envirolink.

Partnerships

Policy Objectives

The objective of this tool is to invest in RS&T and related activities that increase competitiveness in New Zealand industry by increasing investment in RS&T through the development of ongoing partnerships with research organisations. The partnerships should:

- provide for early and ongoing user engagement in RS&T so as to increase the likelihood of developing successful commercial applications from research outcomes; and
- develop user-capability in engaging productively with researchers, thereby encouraging an increase in the level of private investment in New Zealand-based RS&T.

Key Parameters

- Co-funding is required.

Eligibility Criteria

Partnering arrangements led by research users and involving research organisations.

Central and local government agencies are not eligible to receive funding under this initiative, although they can contribute to partnering arrangements.

The proposed RS&T and related activities must:

- address a specific user problem or opportunity for which solutions are likely to increase productivity and profitability;
- incorporate clearly defined pathways to implementation and commercialisation for their intended research outcomes; and

- build the RS&T capability and innovation potential of the user.

Relationship to Previous Investment Types

The Foundation has historically invested in this area using:

- research consortia.

Fellowships

Policy Objectives

The objective of this tool is to benefit New Zealand by building a research community capable of unlocking the distinct innovation potential of Māori knowledge, people and resources.

The tool will fund fellowships for the purpose of supporting undergraduate, post-graduate and early career stage New Zealand scientists, technologists and engineers to undertake RS&T of relevance to Vision Mātauranga.

Eligibility Criteria

The following entities are eligible to receive funding under this tool:

- Individuals with an appropriate RS&T track record.

To be eligible to receive funding under this tool, the RS&T activities must be relevant to one or more of the following four Vision Mātauranga themes:

- Indigenous innovation contributing to economic growth through research and development;
- Taiao – environmental sustainability through iwi and hapū relationships with land and sea;
- Oranga – improving Māori social well-being; and
- Mātauranga – exploring the interface between indigenous knowledge and RS&T.

Other Parameters

- Funding is contestable.

Relationship to Previous Investment Types

The Foundation has historically invested in this area using:

- Te Tipu Putaiao Fellowships.

Notice of Introduction of a Ministerial Scheme Under Section 8A of the Foundation for Research, Science, and Technology Act 1990—Biological Industries

Direction to: The Foundation for Research, Science and Technology (“the Foundation”).

Under section 8A of the Foundation for Research, Science, and Technology Act 1990, I direct the Foundation to allocate funds in accordance with the Biological Industries Scheme (“the Scheme”) as specified in this notice.

Objectives of the Scheme

The objectives of the Scheme are to support sustainable productivity growth of New Zealand’s primary industries, and the development of premium food and industrial biological products and technologies responsive to global consumer preferences.

The Scheme will support research, science and technology (RS&T) that is intended to be of benefit to New Zealand.

The Scheme will support relevant research that contributes to unlocking the innovation potential of Māori knowledge, resources and people as outlined in the Vision Mātauranga policy framework. International collaboration will be supported where this is relevant and of benefit to the objectives of the Scheme.

Indicators of Success

If successful, the Scheme will generate and support the uptake of research RS&T that will contribute to:

- enhancing the knowledge, capabilities and technologies which drive export growth and competitiveness in New Zealand’s biologically-based sectors and firms;
- increasing the levels of sustainable productivity in biologically based sectors while minimising and/or managing impacts on the environment;
- increasing the diversity and value of biologically-based products, in response to global consumer preferences;
- increasing the levels of technology transfer from government research investments to biologically-based sectors and firms; and
- enabling trade to occur in line with international obligations and in a manner that prevents the introduction or export of pests and diseases.

The above indicators will be measured by the Foundation at a sector level and will provide some indication of the success of the Scheme through regular evaluations.

Nature of the Scheme

The Scheme will achieve its objectives by supporting RS&T in the following two areas:

- Primary sector productivity and sustainability – encompasses research underpinning the development, sustainable production, processing and delivery to global markets of foods and materials from New Zealand’s primary industry. This includes the pastoral, horticultural, arable, seafood and aquaculture, and forestry sectors. It also includes broader cross-sector research programmes in areas important to all primary sectors such as biosecurity research.
- High-value food and industrial biological products, processes and technologies – encompasses research underpinning the development of food and industrial bioproducts, processes and technologies. These products will have embedded technology and intellectual property derived from processing and manipulation. This includes research to develop functional and manufactured food products and ingredients, nutraceuticals and supplements. It also includes the development of non-food natural products, such as renewable industrial biomaterials, and bio-sensing and bio-processing technologies.

Tools for Allocating Funding

RS&T supported under this Scheme must in each case fit one of the following tools¹:

- Science-led contestable funding – investing through a contestable process in RS&T and related activities.
- Long-term non-contestable funding – using non-contestable processes to invest in RS&T and related activities.
- Partnerships – support RS&T and related activities that provides for early and ongoing user engagement in RS&T and develops user-capability in engaging productively with researchers.
- Commercialisation and technology and knowledge transfer support – research to increase the stream of commercial prospects from publicly-funded RS&T, and supporting and equipping users to engage with research organisations and applying the results of publicly funded RS&T.
- Business-led R&D – research and development activities to increase New Zealand businesses’ investment in research and development to support increased productivity.

Estimated Funding

An estimate of the amount of funds required to be allocated by the Foundation for the purposes of the Scheme is $172.23 million in 2010/11, excluding GST. Actual funding available will be published each year in the annual Estimates of Appropriation.

Estimated Period of Operation

I estimate that the Scheme will operate for a minimum of three years from 1 July 2010; however I anticipate reviewing this notice by 1 July 2011.

Monitoring Agency

The Ministry of Research, Science and Technology will monitor and review the Scheme.

Performance Measures

Annual performance measures for the Scheme will be published in the annual Estimates of Appropriation. Additional performance measures to measure progress will be specified in the Output Agreement.

Dated this 1st day of June 2010.

HON DR WAYNE MAPP, Minister of Research, Science and Technology.

¹A description of each tool is contained in the Supplementary Notice of Tools for Ministerial Schemes under section 8A of the Foundation for Research, Science, and Technology Act 1990, published in the New Zealand Gazette on the same date as this notice.

Notice of Introduction of a Ministerial Scheme Under Section 8A of the Foundation for Research, Science, and Technology Act 1990—High Value Manufacturing and Services Research

Direction to: The Foundation for Research, Science and Technology (“the Foundation”).

Under section 8A of the Foundation for Research, Science, and Technology Act 1990, I direct the Foundation to allocate funds in accordance with the High Value Manufacturing and Services Research Scheme (“the Scheme”) as specified in this notice.

Objective of the Scheme

The objective of the Scheme is to diversify New Zealand’s economy by undertaking research, science and technology (RS&T) that will enable the development of new technologies, novel materials and new products, processes and services resulting in the growth of existing, new and emerging industries.

The Scheme will support RS&T that is intended to be of benefit to New Zealand.

It is also expected that the Scheme will support relevant research that contributes to unlocking the innovation potential of Māori knowledge, resources and people as outlined in the Vision Mātauranga policy framework. International collaboration will be supported where this is relevant and of benefit to the objectives of the Scheme.

Indicators of Success

If successful, the Scheme will generate and support the uptake of RS&T that will contribute to:

- increasing the number of New Zealand businesses which become established global exporters by leveraging intellectual property, including (but not limited to) that derived from New Zealand research;
- substantially increasing exports of high-technology goods and services from New Zealand; and
- enhancing sector performance from the use of new knowledge or technologies.

The above indicators will be measured by the Foundation at a sector level and will provide some indication of the success of the Scheme through regular evaluations.

Nature of the Scheme

The Scheme will achieve its objectives by supporting research, science and technology in the following four areas:

- Novel materials, manufacturing and applications – encompasses research including new products and services created by transforming materials and/or automating production, and improved efficiencies in production from new engineering tools or processes.
- Agri-technologies – encompasses research including new and emerging technologies based on New Zealand’s expertise in the agriculture and other primary sectors, particularly those technologies that exploit crossovers between agriculture and new materials, information and communications technologies, and health technologies.
- Health and medical technologies – encompasses research including new and emerging technologies that impact on human health and wellbeing. This includes diagnostic and imaging devices, health IT, drug discovery and delivery systems, and assistive and rehabilitative devices. Health services research is not included.
- Information, communication and digital technologies – encompasses productivity improvement tools, data management tools, communications technologies and digital tools for creativity.

Tools for Allocating Funding

RS&T supported under this Scheme must in each case fit one of the following tools¹:

- Science-led contestable funding – investing through a contestable process in RS&T and related activities.
- Long-term non-contestable funding – using non-contestable processes to invest in research, science and technology and related activities.
- Partnerships – support RS&T and related activities that provides for early and ongoing user engagement in research, science and technology and develops user-capability in engaging productively with researchers.
- Commercialisation and technology and knowledge transfer support – research to increase the stream of commercial prospects from publicly-funded RS&T, and supporting and equipping users to engage with research organisations and applying the results of publicly funded RS&T.
- Business-led R&D – research and development activities to increase New Zealand businesses’ investment in research and development to support increased productivity.

Estimated Funding

An estimate of the amount of funds required to be allocated by the Foundation for the purposes of the Scheme is $138.41 million in 2010/11, excluding GST. Actual funding available will be published each year in the annual Estimates of Appropriation.

Estimated Period of Operation

I estimate that the Scheme will operate for a minimum of three years from 1 July 2010; however I anticipate reviewing this notice by 1 July 2011.

Monitoring Agency

The Ministry of Research, Science and Technology will monitor and review the Scheme.

Performance Measures

Annual performance measures for the Scheme will be published in the annual Estimates of Appropriation.

Additional performance measures to measure progress will be specified in the Output Agreement.

Dated this 1st day of June 2010.

HON DR WAYNE MAPP, Minister of Research, Science and Technology.

go4390

Notice of Introduction of a Ministerial Scheme Under Section 8A of the Foundation for Research, Science, and Technology Act 1990—Energy and Minerals Research

Direction to: The Foundation for Research, Science and Technology (“the Foundation”).

Under section 8A of the Foundation for Research, Science, and Technology Act 1990, I direct the Foundation to allocate funds in accordance with the Energy and Minerals Research Scheme (“the Scheme”) as specified in this notice.

Objective of the Scheme

The objective of this Scheme is to increase the contribution of energy and minerals to New Zealand’s economic growth, enhance energy security and assist New Zealand to meet future energy and mineral needs in efficient, affordable and environmentally responsible ways.

The Scheme will support research, science and technology (RS&T) that is intended to be of benefit to New Zealand.

It is also expected that the Scheme will support relevant research that contributes to unlocking the innovation potential of Māori knowledge, resources and people as outlined in the Vision Mātauranga policy framework. International collaboration will be supported where this is relevant and of benefit to the objectives of the Scheme.

Indicators of Success

If successful, the Scheme will generate and support the uptake of RS&T that will contribute to:

- improving the knowledge of our petroleum and mineral endowment;
- efficacious mineral extraction and increased energy production;
- enhancing New Zealand’s standing as an attractive destination for investment in petroleum and mineral related activities;
- effective minimisation and/or management of the environmental impacts of mineral extraction and energy production, including greenhouse gas emissions;
- improving energy security through the development of a more efficient, cost-effective, and robust electricity generation system and the development of economically viable New Zealand-sourced bio-energy; and
- increasing export returns from selling energy and mineral resources, technologies and services.

The above indicators will be measured by the Foundation at a sector level and will provide some indication of the success of the Scheme through regular evaluations.

Nature of the Scheme

The Scheme will achieve its objectives by supporting RS&T in the following two areas:

- Energy Resources – encompasses research in economically viable, environmentally sustainable and efficient energy generation from indigenous sources; to provide the knowledge and capabilities to unlock the potential of New Zealand’s energy resources and assist the transition to an energy future that maximises efficiency, economy and sustainability whilst managing environmental impact.

- Minerals – encompasses research to increase understanding of the resource base and assist commercially- and environmentally-informed decision-making about extracting minerals from the ground and seabed.

Tools for Allocating Funding

RS&T supported under this Scheme must in each case fit one of the following tools¹:

- Science-led contestable funding – investing through a contestable process in RS&T and related activities.
- Long-term non-contestable funding – using non-contestable processes to invest in RS&T and related activities.
- Partnerships – support RS&T and related activities that provides for early and ongoing user engagement in RS&T and develops user-capability in engaging productively with researchers.
- Commercialisation and technology and knowledge transfer support – research to increase the stream of commercial prospects from publicly-funded RS&T, and supporting and equipping users to engage with research organisations and applying the results of publicly funded RS&T.

Estimated Funding

An estimate of the amount of funds required to be allocated by the Foundation for the purposes of the Scheme is $26.45 million in 2010/11, excluding GST. Actual funding available will be published each year in the annual Estimates of Appropriation.

Estimated Period of Operation

I estimate that the Scheme will operate for a minimum of three years from 1 July 2010; however I anticipate reviewing this notice by 1 July 2011.

Monitoring Agency

The Ministry of Research, Science and Technology will monitor and review the Scheme.

Performance Measures

Annual performance measures for the Scheme will be published in the annual Estimates of Appropriation. Additional performance measures to measure progress will be specified in the Output Agreement.

Dated this 1st day of June 2010.

HON DR WAYNE MAPP, Minister of Research, Science and Technology.

go4394

Notice of Introduction of a Ministerial Scheme Under Section 8A of the Foundation for Research, Science, and Technology Act 1990—Environmental Research

Direction to: The Foundation for Research, Science and Technology (“the Foundation”).

Under section 8A of the Foundation for Research, Science, and Technology Act 1990, I direct the Foundation to allocate funds in accordance with the Environmental Research Scheme (“the Scheme”) as specified in this notice.

Objective of the Scheme

The objective of the Scheme is to fund environmental research that underpins the management, use protection and enhancement of species natural ecosystems, land, marine and freshwater resources, climate and atmosphere within New Zealand and Antarctica.

The Scheme will support research, science and technology (RS&T) that is intended to be of benefit to New Zealand.

It is also expected that the Scheme will support relevant research that contributes to unlocking the innovation potential of Māori knowledge, resources and people as outlined in the Vision Mātauranga policy framework. International collaboration will be supported where this is relevant and of benefit to the objectives of the Scheme.

It is expected that the Scheme will encourage research to demonstrate re-use and sharing of data, both within the RS&T system and between it and end-users.

Indicators of Success

If successful the Scheme will generate and support the uptake of RS&T that will contribute to:

- enhancing and supporting the ecological functioning, recovery and resilience to threats of New Zealand's natural and indigenous environments (encompassing land, freshwater and marine ecosystems and their components).
- maintaining and enhancing the environmental knowledge base and informing actions by government and business to enable sustainable management of New Zealand's natural resources and environment, and mitigate or adapt to the impacts of global processes such as climate change.

The above indicators will be measured by the Foundation at a sector level and will provide some indication of the success of the Scheme.

Nature of the Scheme

The Scheme will achieve its objectives by supporting RS&T in the following six areas:

- Land and freshwater resources – RS&T that underpins sustainable use of soil and water resources and enhances their productive capacity for current and future generations.
- Climate and atmosphere – RS&T that improves our ability to predict, mitigate and adapt to the impacts of climate change, and improves our ability to anticipate and manage future impacts of global processes, such as ocean/climate interactions.
- Marine resources – RS&T that underpins sustainable use of living marine resources and which will also ensure sustainable production for future generations.
- Terrestrial ecosystems – RS&T that enables protection and maintenance of our natural indigenous land and freshwater ecosystems, and enables improved ecosystem functionality across whole landscapes.
- Marine ecosystems – RS&T that enables protection and maintenance of marine biodiversity and ecological health of marine ecosystems.
- Antarctica – Antarctic ecosystems are preserved for future generations and resources are used sustainably, in line with New Zealand's international commitments.

Tools for Allocating Funding

RS&T supported under this Scheme must in each case fit one of the following tools¹:

- Science-led contestable funding – investing through a contestable process in RS&T and related activities.
- Long-term non-contestable funding – using non-contestable processes to invest in RS&T and related activities.
- Partnerships – support research, science and technology and related activities that provide for early and ongoing user engagement in RS&T and develop user-capability in engaging productively with researchers.
- Commercialisation and technology and knowledge transfer support – research to increase the stream of commercial prospects from publicly-funded RS&T, and supporting and equipping users to engage with research organisations and applying the results of publicly funded RS&T.

Estimated Funding

An estimate of the amount of funds required to be allocated by the Foundation for the purposes of the Scheme is $74.25 million in 2010/11, excluding GST. Actual funding available will be published each year in the annual Estimates of Appropriation.

Estimated Period of Operation

I estimate that the Scheme will operate for a minimum of three years from 1 July 2010; however I anticipate reviewing this notice by 1 July 2011.

Monitoring Agency

The Ministry of Research, Science and Technology will monitor and review the Scheme.

Performance Measures

Annual performance measures for the Scheme will be published in the annual Estimates of Appropriation. Additional performance measures to measure progress will be specified in the Output Agreement.

Dated this 1st day of June 2010.

HON DR WAYNE MAPP, Minister of Research, Science and Technology.

Notice of Introduction of a Ministerial Scheme Under Section 8A of the Foundation for Research, Science, and Technology Act 1990—Science Collections and Infrastructure

Direction to: The Foundation for Research, Science and Technology (“the Foundation”).

Under section 8A of the Foundation for Research, Science, and Technology Act 1990, I direct the Foundation to allocate funds in accordance with the Science Collections and Infrastructure Scheme (“the Scheme”) as specified in this notice.

Objective of the Scheme

The objective of the Scheme is the maintenance and retention of databases, collections and significant research infrastructure.

The Scheme will support research, science and technology (RS&T) that is intended to be of benefit to New Zealand.

Indicators of Success

If successful, the Scheme will support nationally important RS&T by:

- ensuring the provision of nationally significant databases, collections and assets, including maintaining the viability and longevity of samples and the maintenance and development of assets and associated activities, for example adding new samples and data, and upgrading facilities.
- increasing the use of databases and collections by fostering co-ordination of software tools, protocols, metadata standards, and “soft” infrastructure such as catalogues that enable and regulate information movement and processing.
- ensuring that research vessels are well maintained and available to researchers when required.

The above indicators will be measured by the Foundation at a sector level and will provide some indication of the success of the Scheme through regular evaluations.

Nature of the Scheme

The Scheme will achieve its objectives by supporting RS&T in the following two areas:

- Nationally Significant Databases and Collections; and
- Research vessels.

Tools for Allocating Funding

RS&T supported under this Scheme must in each case fit the following tool¹:

- Long-term non-contestable funding – using non-contestable processes to invest in RS&T and related activities.

Estimated Funding

An estimate of the amount of funds required to be allocated by the Foundation for the purposes of the Scheme is $22.38 million in 2010/11, excluding GST. Actual funding available will be published each year in the annual Estimates of Appropriation.

Estimated Period of Operation

The Scheme will operate for a minimum of three years from 1 July 2010; however I anticipate reviewing this notice by 1 July 2011.

Monitoring Agency

The Ministry of Research, Science and Technology will monitor and review the Scheme.

Performance Measures

Annual performance measures for the Scheme will be published in the annual Estimates of Appropriation. Additional performance measures to measure progress will be specified in the Output Agreement.

Dated this 1st day of June 2010.

HON DR WAYNE MAPP, Minister of Research, Science and Technology.

Notice of Introduction of a Ministerial Scheme Under Section 8A of the Foundation for Research, Science, and Technology Act 1990—Vision Mātauranga Capability Fund

Direction to: The Foundation for Research, Science and Technology (“the Foundation”).

Under section 8A of the Foundation for Research, Science, and Technology Act 1990, I direct the Foundation to allocate funds in accordance with the Vision Mātauranga Capability Fund (“the Scheme”) as specified in this notice.

Objective of the Scheme

The objective of the Scheme is to unlock the innovation potential of Māori knowledge, resources and people by developing skilled people and organisations to undertake or otherwise contribute to research that supports the four themes of the Vision Mātauranga policy framework:

- Indigenous innovation;
- Taiao – environmental sustainability;
- Hauora/Oranga – improving health and social well being; and
- Mātauranga – exploring indigenous knowledge and research, science and technology (RS&T).

The Scheme will support RS&T that is intended to be of benefit to New Zealand.

It is also expected that the Scheme will ensure that international collaboration is supported where this is of benefit to the objectives of Scheme.

Indicators of Success

If successful, the Scheme will contribute to RS&T that will:

- increase and strengthen the community of researchers, stakeholders and users with the ability to unlock the innovation potential of Māori knowledge, resources and people;
- foster effective technology transfer from the science system to stakeholders and users relevant to the themes of Vision Mātauranga; and
- develop networks for knowledge transfer, and technology transfer, relevant to the four themes of Vision Mātauranga.

The above indicators will be measured by the Foundation at a sector level and will provide some indication of the success of the Scheme through regular evaluations.

Nature of the Scheme

The Scheme supports the four themes of Vision Mātauranga, through:

- investing in research that contributes to unlocking the innovation potential of Māori knowledge, resources and people;
- fellowships and other mechanisms which build and develop research communities capable of delivering Vision Mātauranga research outcomes;
- ensuring quality engagement between the science system, stakeholders, and users of Vision Mātauranga research and other research outcomes, with a focus on knowledge sharing and technology transfer.

Tools for Allocating Funding

RS&T supported under this Scheme must in each case fit one of the following tools¹:

- Science-led contestable funding – investing through a contestable process in RS&T and related activities.
- Fellowships – fellowships aimed at developing skilled people to undertake research and/or contribute to the delivery of research outcomes that supports the four themes of the Vision Mātauranga policy framework.

Estimated Funding

An estimate of the amount of funds required to be allocated by the Foundation for the purposes of the Scheme is $3.49 million in 2010/11, excluding GST. Actual funding available will be published each year in the annual Estimates of Appropriation.

Estimated Period of Operation

I estimate that the Scheme will operate for a minimum of three years from 1 July 2010; however I anticipate reviewing this notice by 1 July 2011.

Monitoring Agency

The Ministry of Research, Science and Technology will monitor and review the Scheme.

Performance Measures

Annual performance measures for the Scheme will be published in the annual Estimates of Appropriation. Additional performance measures to measure progress will be specified in the Output Agreement.

Dated this 1st day of June 2010.

HON DR WAYNE MAPP, Minister of Research, Science and Technology.

Notice of Introduction of a Ministerial Scheme Under Section 8A of the Foundation for Research, Science, and Technology Act 1990—International Relationships

Direction to: The Foundation for Research, Science and Technology (“the Foundation”).

Under section 8A of the Foundation for Research, Science, and Technology Act 1990, I direct the Foundation to allocate funds in accordance with the International Relationships Scheme (“the Scheme”) as specified in this notice.

Objective of the Scheme

The objective of the Scheme is to effectively leverage international research, science, and technology (RS&T) relationships through increased participation by New Zealand in the global science arena.

The Scheme will support RS&T that is intended to be of benefit to New Zealand and will enhance New Zealand’s credibility.

The Scheme will aim to develop reciprocal funding schemes with our priority countries.

Indicators of Success

If successful, the Scheme will generate and support the uptake of RS&T that will strengthen the international connectivity of New Zealand’s science capabilities internationally by:

- increased connectivity relationships with science teams from New Zealand and abroad in areas of science priorities and potential economic growth; and
- enhanced existing and establish new reciprocal funding schemes in order to provide maximum benefits for New Zealand’s research sector focusing on the priority areas in the Ministry of Research, Science and Technology’s International Strategy 2009–2012.

The above indicators will be measured by the Foundation at a sector level and will provide some indication of the success of the Scheme through regular evaluations.

Nature of the Scheme

The Scheme will achieve its objectives by supporting RS&T in the following area:

1. Bilateral Partnerships – winding down the commitment to co-invest with international partners in research programmes under IIOF.
2. Increase the access to funding, scientific skills and technological capabilities that New Zealand is able to source from other countries.

Tools for Allocating Funding

RS&T supported under this Scheme must in each case fit the following tool¹:

- Science-led contestable funding – investing through a contestable process in RS&T and related activities.

Estimated Funding

An estimate of the amount of funds required to be allocated by the Foundation for the purposes of the Scheme is $4.18 million in 2010/11, excluding GST. Actual funding available will be published each year in the annual Estimates of Appropriation.

Estimated Period of Operation

I estimate that the Scheme will operate for a minimum of three years from 1 July 2010; however, I anticipate reviewing this notice by 1 July 2011.

Monitoring Agency

The Ministry of Research, Science and Technology will monitor and review the Scheme.

Performance Measures

Annual performance measures for the Scheme will be published in the annual Estimates of Appropriation. Additional performance measures to measure progress will be specified in the Output Agreement.

Dated this 1st day of June 2010.

HON DR WAYNE MAPP, Minister of Research, Science and Technology.

Notice of Introduction of a Ministerial Scheme Under Section 8A of the Foundation for Research, Science, and Technology Act 1990—Hazards and Infrastructure Research

Direction to: The Foundation for Research, Science and Technology (“the Foundation”).

Under section 8A of the Foundation for Research, Science, and Technology Act 1990, I direct the Foundation to allocate funds in accordance with the Hazards and Infrastructure Research Scheme (“the Scheme”) as specified in this notice.

Objectives of the Scheme

The objectives of the Scheme are to increase New Zealand’s resilience to hazards; support sustainable urban development, building and infrastructure; and help communities to manage growth and change, mitigate risks and maximise infrastructure efficiency.

The Scheme will support research, science and technology (RS&T) that is intended to be of benefit to New Zealand.

It is also expected that the Scheme will support relevant research that contributes to unlocking the innovation potential of Māori knowledge, resources and people as outlined in the Vision Mātauranga policy framework. International collaboration will be supported where this is relevant and of benefit to the objectives of the Scheme.

Indicators of Success

If successful, the Scheme will generate and support the uptake of research, science and technology that will contribute to:

- the effective management of the major hazards faced by New Zealand communities through improved hazard prediction and alert, management and recovery systems and practices, better urban design and development, and resilient infrastructure;
- the effective capture and use of data, including human responses, during and after events; and
- improved planning and service delivery by central, regional and local government, private sector organisations, and the community.

The above indicators will be measured by the Foundation at a sector level and will provide some indication of the success of the Scheme.

Nature of the Scheme

The Scheme will achieve its objectives by supporting research, science and technology in the following two areas:

- Hazards – research to improve the management of hazards (for example, fire, flooding and earthquake) through hazard prediction and reduction, improving readiness, and emergency response and recovery. The research will support understanding of the physical causes of hazards, the social, economic and cultural factors influencing development of disaster-resilient communities, and the scientific underpinning for risk assessments/simulation models.

• Urban development and infrastructure:

- Research into the development and management of cities and towns, addressing lifestyles, economic and community development, economic, environmental and social infrastructure, networks, governance, buildings and spaces, and the ways people use them.
- Infrastructure research to improve the development, provision and resilience of essential infrastructure networks, systems and services. The research will include studies on interactions between physical infrastructure and the human environment to support economic, environmental, cultural and social wellbeing.

This investment area will fund a wide range of multidisciplinary (physical, social, economic and cultural) research and systems-based approaches to meet the needs of government, councils, communities and businesses in managing hazards, and urban and infrastructure development.

Tools for Allocating Funding

Research, science and technology supported under this Scheme must in each case fit one of the following Tools¹:

- Science-led contestable funding – investing through a contestable process in RS&T and related activities.
- Long-term non-contestable funding – using non-contestable processes to invest in research, science and technology and related activities.
- Commercialisation and technology and knowledge transfer support – research to increase the stream of commercial prospects from publicly-funded RS&T, and supporting and equipping users to engage with research organisations and applying the results of publicly funded RS&T.
- Partnerships – support RS&T and related activities that provides for early and ongoing user engagement in RS&T and develops user-capability in engaging productively with researchers.

Estimated Funding

An estimate of the amount of funds required to be allocated by the Foundation for the purposes of the Scheme is $23.55 million in 2010/11, excluding GST. Actual funding available will be published each year in the annual Estimates of Appropriation.

Estimated Period of Operation

I estimate that the Scheme will operate for a minimum of three years from 1 July 2010; however I anticipate reviewing this notice by 1 July 2011.

Monitoring Agency

The Ministry of Research, Science and Technology will monitor and review the Scheme.

Performance Measures

Annual performance measures for the Scheme will be published in the annual Estimates of Appropriation. Additional performance measures to measure progress will be specified in the Output Agreement.

Dated this 1st day of June 2010.

HON DR WAYNE MAPP, Minister of Research, Science and Technology.

¹A description of each tool is contained in the Supplementary Notice of Tools for Ministerial Schemes under section 8A of the Foundation for Research, Science, and Technology Act 1990, published in the New Zealand Gazette on the same date as this notice.

Notice of Introduction of a Ministerial Scheme Under Section 8A of the Foundation for Research, Science, and Technology Act 1990—Health and Society Research

Direction to: The Foundation for Research, Science and Technology (“the Foundation”).

Under section 8A of the Foundation for Research, Science, and Technology Act 1990, I direct the Foundation to allocate funds in accordance with the Health and Society Research Scheme (“the Scheme”) as specified in this notice.

Note: The Health component of the appropriation that funds this Scheme (which is the majority of the appropriation) goes to the Health Research Council and is governed by separate accountability documents. This Direction addresses only the society research component of the appropriation which is managed by the Foundation.

Objective of the Scheme

The objective of the Scheme is to increase understanding of the social and economic factors contributing to improved health and social wellbeing of New Zealanders.

The Scheme will support research, science and technology (RS&T) that is intended to be of benefit to New Zealand.

It is also expected that the Scheme will support relevant research that contributes to unlocking the innovation potential of Māori knowledge, resources and people as outlined in the Vision Mātauranga policy framework. International collaboration will be supported where this is relevant and of benefit to the objectives of the Scheme.

Indicators of Success

If successful, the Scheme will generate and support the uptake of RS&T that will contribute to:

- innovations in social and economic policy, social services delivery in central and local government, community services sectors, and business arising from an increased understanding of key social and economic trends and behaviours.

The above indicator will be measured by the Foundation at a sector level and will provide some indication of the success of the Scheme through regular evaluations.

Nature of the Scheme

The Scheme will achieve its objectives by supporting RS&T in the following areas:

- Society – Research to understand, anticipate and help manage major societal challenges, trends and implications – such as changes in population and life course, social structures and institutions, wealth generation, lifestyles and values – to inform social and economic policies and services. Important priorities are the determinants of wellbeing and seeking solutions to problems such as inequalities, social exclusion, acquiring knowledge, poverty, housing, and anti-social behaviour such as crime, delinquency and drugs.
- Economy – Research on New Zealand’s economic and technological development in the wider context of social, cultural and economic wellbeing. Priority areas include research on economic performance, productivity, knowledge production and exploitation, innovation systems, skills, indigenous innovation, the economy, and sustainable development of technologies.

Tools for Allocating Funding

RS&T supported under this Scheme must in each case fit one of the following tools¹:

- Science-led contestable funding – investing through a contestable process in RS&T and related activities.

- Long-term non-contestable funding – using non-contestable processes to invest in RS&T and related activities.

Estimated Funding

An estimate of the amount of funds required to be allocated by the Foundation for the purposes of the Scheme is $10.74 million in 2010/11, excluding GST. Actual funding available will be published each year in the annual Estimates of Appropriation.

Estimated Period of Operation

The Scheme will operate for a minimum of three years from 1 July 2010; however I anticipate reviewing this notice by 1 July 2011.

Monitoring Agency

The Ministry of Research, Science and Technology will monitor and review the Scheme.

Performance Measures

Annual performance measures for the Scheme will be published in the annual Estimates of Appropriation. Additional performance measures to measure progress will be specified in the Output Agreement.

Dated this 1st day of June 2010.

HON DR WAYNE MAPP, Minister of Research, Science and Technology.

Schedule

Omit from clause 1(a) "$12.63" and substitute "$13.16".

Omit from clause 1A "2008" and substitute "2009".

Special Transfer Allowance Programme 2000 (as established and approved on 13 November 2000)⁸

Omit from the Schedule "193.00", "177.00", "125.00", "255.00", "220.00" and "183.00" and substitute respectively "240.00", "230.00", "140.00", "308.00", "350.00" and "200.00".

Explanatory Note

This note is not part of the instrument, but is intended to indicate its general effect.

This instrument, which generally comes into effect on 1 April 2009, amends a Ministerial direction and a number of welfare programmes under the Social Security Act 1964 ("the Act").

Schedule 1 adjusts certain rates, standard costs, and limits to take into account a 3.38% increase in the Consumers Price Index.

Schedule 2 lists amendments to the:

- Home Help Programme to align the hourly rate with a 4.18% increase in the adult minimum wage;
- Special Transfer Allowance Programme 2000 to adjust average regional rents to reflect movements in rentals.

Clause 5 revokes the Care Supplement Programme with effect with the close of 31 March 2009. This programme is no longer required because the weekly rates of orphan's benefit and unsupported child's benefit payable under the Act are increased on 1 April 2009 by the Social Security (Rates of Benefits and Allowances) Order 2009 to align with the rates of weekly foster care allowance board payments under section 363 of the Children, Young Persons, and Their Families Act 1989. This means that the "top-up" payments provided to former foster parents under the Care Supplement Programme are no longer required.

Telecommunications Act 2001

Notification of Commencement of Review of the Standard Terms Determination for Telecom's Unbundled Bitstream Access Service Under the Telecommunications Act 2001

Pursuant to section 30R of the Telecommunications Act 2001 ("the Act"), the Commerce Commission ("the Commission") gives public notice of its decision to commence a review under section 30R of the standard terms determination in relation to Telecom's Unbundled Bitstream Access Service ("UBA STD") dated 12 December 2007.

The UBA STD has been clarified by the Commission on a number of occasions.

The review will assess in which relevant markets that Telecom must supply the Unbundled Bitstream Access Service in response to a request of an Access Seeker.

The Commission notifies that the UBA STD may need to be amended to implement a decision reached about the availability of the Unbundled Bitstream Access Service in relevant markets.

The scope and nature of any amendments required to be made to the UBA STD will also form part of the review.

The closing date for submissions on the questions raised in the Commission's letter dated Wednesday 23 June 2010 commencing the review is Friday 23 July 2010.

Under section 30R(1) of the Act, the Commission may, on its own initiative, commence a review, at any time, of all or any of the terms specified in a standard terms determination.

Under section 30R(5)(b), the Commission must give public notice of the commencement of the review.

Material relevant to this review can be found on the Commission's website at
