STANDARD 4.2.2

PRIMARY PRODUCTION AND PROCESSING STANDARD FOR POULTRY MEAT

(Australia only)

Purpose and commentary

This Standard sets out a number of food safety requirements for the primary production and processing of poultry, and poultry carcasses and poultry meat for human consumption. At the primary production stage, businesses that produce poultry must implement measures to control the food safety hazards and must be able to trace their products. Businesses that process poultry must control their food safety hazards and must be able to trace their products.

It is the responsibility of these businesses not only to comply with this Standard but also to be able to demonstrate compliance. This Standard is, in part, intended to reduce the contamination of poultry, poultry carcasses and poultry meat by pathogenic Campylobacter and Salmonella.

Pursuant to Part 2, sections 11 and 12 of the Health Practitioners Competence Assurance Act 2003 (“the Act”), the following notice is given.

Notice

1. Title and commencement—(1) This notice may be cited as the Midwifery (Scope of Practice and Qualifications) Notice 2010.

2. Scope of practice and qualifications—The Midwifery Council (“the council”) sets the following scope of practice and qualifications as specified in the attached Schedule.

3. Revocation—This notice revokes all previous midwifery (scope of practice and qualifications) notices.

Schedule*Scope of Practice – Midwife

Pursuant to section 11 of the Act, the council specifies the midwifery scope of practice as follows:

A midwife works in partnership with women on her own professional responsibility, to give women the necessary support, care and advice during pregnancy, labour and the postpartum period up to six weeks, to facilitate births and to provide care for the newborn.

A midwife understands, promotes and facilitates the physiological processes of pregnancy and childbirth, identifies complications that may arise in mother and baby, accesses appropriate medical assistance and implements emergency measures as necessary. When women require referral, a midwife provides midwifery care in collaboration with other health professionals.

A midwife has an important role in health and wellness promotion and education for the woman, her family and the community. Midwifery practice involves informing and preparing the woman and her family for pregnancy, birth, breastfeeding and parenthood, and includes certain aspects of women’s health, family planning and infant well-being.

A midwife may practise in any setting, including the home, the community, hospitals or in any other maternity service. In all settings, a midwife remains responsible and accountable for the care she provides.

Qualifications Prescribed for Registration in the Midwifery Scope of Practice

Pursuant to section 12 of the Act, the following qualifications are prescribed for registration as a midwife:

- (b) current or past registration as a midwife with a midwifery registration authority in the same country of registration as where that midwife’s initial qualification was completed.
- 2.2 As part of its consideration under paragraph 2.1(a), and prior to making a decision, the council may, in addition, require an applicant to:
